JANUARY, 1919

WILLIAM RICHARD CUTTER, A.M.

By Hon. EDWARD FRANCIS JOHNSON, A.B., LL.B., of Woburn, Mass.

WILLIAM RICHARD CUTTER, librarian, genealogist, elected to resident membership in the New England Historic Genealogical Society in 1870 and made a life member in 1911, a member of the Council of the Society for the three years 1904-1906, Corresponding Secretary of the Society in 1910 and 1911, and its Historian for eight years (1906-1913), died at his home in Woburn, Mass., 6 June 1918, in the seventy-first year of his age.

He was born at Woburn 17 August 1847, the youngest child of Dr. Benjamin and Mary (Whittemore) Cutter, and was sixth in descent from Richard¹ and Elizabeth (Williams) Cutter of Cambridge, Mass., through William² and Rebecca (Rolfe), Dea. John³ and Lydia (Harrington), Ammi⁴ and Esther (Pierce), Dea. Ephraim⁵ and Deborah (Locke), and Dr. Benjamin⁶ his father. Elizabeth Cutter, widow, mother of Richard,¹ came to New England about 1640, and died at Cambridge 10 January 1663/4. Her daughter Barbara was the wife of Mr. Elijah Corlet, the Cambridge schoolmaster, and in her will, dated 16 February 1662/3, when she was "aged about 87 years," she stated that she had "sojourned about twenty years" with them. The Cutters lived in that part of Cambridge called Menotomy, which is now the town of Arlington.

Mr. Cutter's father, Benjamin Cutter, was graduated at Harvard College in the Class of 1824, obtained from his alma mater the degree of Master of Arts in course and in 1827 the degree of Doctor of Medicine, and in 1857 received the latter degree also from the University of Pennsylvania. In 1828 he became a practising physician in Woburn, and followed his profession there until his death, in 1864. He was a leader in the educational and civic movements of the times, and, among other activities, was founder of the Woburn Young Men's Library in 1835 and founder and first president of the Middlesex East District Medical Society, which was organized at his house on 22 October 1850. He gave much time to antiquarian and genealogical researches, and began the compiling of the genealogy of the Cutters in New England, which was afterwards finished by his son, William Richard Cutter. His wife, Mary (Whittemore), was a daughter of Amos and Rebecca (Russell) Whittemore and a granddaughter of Amos Whittemore, the distinguished inventor. After Dr. Cutter's death a public memorial service was held, and the citizens of Woburn erected a monument to his memory in the Woburn cemetery, "in testimony of his worth as a man, physician and Christian."

William Richard Cutter was educated in the public schools of Woburn until his fifteenth year, when he was sent to the Warren Academy in that town, where he remained until April 1865. He then spent two years at Norwich University, in Vermont, and received from this institution, many years later, in 1893, the degree of Master of Arts. In the fall of 1867 he entered the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University as a special student, remaining there about two years. In the meantime, having access to the large college library at Yale, he became interested in the study of history and more especially of genealogy. He spent much time in collecting material for the revision and enlargement of the Cutter genealogy begun by his father, and brought it out in 1871 under the title, "A History of the Cutter Family of New England." A Supplement to this work was published in 1875.

In 1871 Mr. Cutter moved to Lexington, Mass., and while residing there prepared and published a "History of the Town of Arlington," for which much material had been collected by his father, and also communicated articles to the NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER. One of the most important of these articles was entitled "A Yankee Privateersman in Prison in England, 1777-1779," and contained the journal kept at Forton, England, by Timothy Connor. It was published in several instalments, with notes by Mr. Cutter, in the REGISTER during the years 1876-1879 (vols. 30-33). The original manuscript of this journal is now in the archives of the United States. In Lexington Mr. Cutter was clerk of the Hancock Congregational Church, clerk of the School Committee, and clerk and treasurer of the Board of Trustees of the Cary Free Public Library.

In 1882 he was elected librarian of the Woburn Public Library, succeeding George M. Champney, deceased, and assumed his duties on 1 March. He continued at the head of this library until 1 October 1909, when he resigned as librarian and was made librarian emeritus by the Board of Trustees. He continued work in the Library until 1 March 1912, thus rounding out a full thirty years of service to this institution. Thereafter he acted in an advisory capacity only, being annually chosen librarian emeritus. As librarian, Mr. Cutter recognized his position as a servant of the people of Woburn, and gave freely and willingly of his services, treating all classes with a uniform courtesy which was inbred. He was instrumental in securing some notable gifts for the Library, the Baldwin Collection among others, and it was partly in recognition of Mr. Cutter's services that his brother-in-law, Dr. Harlow, gave the munificent bequest which is now so helpful to the institution. In accepting his resignation as librarian the trustees of the Woburn Public Library expressed "their appreciation of your long and faithful services as librarian and the deep personal interest you have always taken in the welfare of the library. They especially recall your efforts in securing for it valuable additions and benefactions."

Mr. Cutter served as secretary of the trustees of the Warren Academy since 1885 and as clerk and treasurer of the Burbeen Free Lecture Fund of Woburn since 1892. For several years he was a member of the Society of Colonial Wars in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. At the time of his death he was president of the Rumford Historical Association of Woburn and a member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, with which he had been connected for more than forty-eight years, to whose REGISTER he was a prolific contributor, and to which, as has been stated at the beginning of this memoir, he rendered efficient service also as Councillor, Corresponding Secretary, and Historian in the course of the ten years 1904-1913. His membership in the First Church of Woburn was coeval with the present church edifice, and dated back to 1860.

In addition to the numerous articles which he contributed to the REGISTER, Mr. Cutter was the compiler or editor of many important historical, biographical, and genealogical works. He prepared for publication the last three volumes of the "Memorial Biographies" published by the Historic Genealogical Society, and at the request of the late Charles Francis Adams he edited for the Massachusetts Historical Society part of the second volume of Chamberlain's "History of Chelsea." In 1906 he was chosen by the Lewis Historical Publishing Company to be editor of some of its publications, one of them being a four-volume edition of "Historic Homes and Places and Genealogical and Personal Memoirs relating to the Families of Middlesex County." Of special importance to his native town were his contributions to its local history. His history of Woburn, published in 1890 in Hurd's "History of Middlesex County," contains more facts about that town than any other one publication. His "Contributions to a Bibliography of the Local History of Woburn," published in 1892 as an appendix to "Woburn Births," his annotated "Diary of Lieut. Samuel Thompson of Woburn, Massachusetts, while in Service in the French War, 1758," his article in the New England Magazine for February 1890, entitled "A Model Village Library," and his "Woburn Historic Sites and Old Houses," published in 1892, are some of his other printed contributions to the history of the town. He also assisted in editing for publication in the Woburn Journal the first volume of "Woburn Records" and the manuscript list of "Real Estate in Woburn 1st Parish in 1798," and the newspapers both of Woburn and of Winchester contained numerous articles from his pen. His knowledge of local history undoubtedly surpassed that possessed by any other citizen of Woburn. As illustrative of his early bent and his instinct for the preservation of local records it may be mentioned that as early as 1866 he made a transcript of the epitaphs in the first burial ground at Woburn, and thus preserved many family records which otherwise might long since have passed out of existence.

From his father Mr. Cutter inherited his love for this antiquarian and genealogical work. His zeal in its prosecution was indefatigable and unselfish. He was always willing to assist others in their searches in family history, and gave generously to them of his time and labor. His love for the work was superior to any pecuniary reward to be obtained from it, and he never exacted or expected a consideration for any information in his possession. He had also a natural aptitude for genealogy. To him it was a branch of knowledge only so far as it rested on things proven. His "transcendent capacity of taking trouble," which was Carlyle's definition of genius, his refusal to accept hypotheses, and his insistence on facts placed him in the front rank of the genealogical profession. Such was the height of his ambition, and he lived to attain it.

Mr. Cutter married, 31 August 1871, Mary Elizabeth Kimball, who survives him, daughter of Daniel. Their only child, Sarah Hamlen Cutter, was born in 1873 and died in 1890.

Samuel³ (William,² Samuel¹) and Mary (Hopkins) and sister of Mary, wife of Richard Seymour (33), and of William Hickox, husband of Lydia Seymour (12, vi); secondly, at Waterbury, 12 Oct. 1767, MARY (DUNBAR) ELWELL, who died at Plymouth 8 Oct. 1799, aged 83, daughter of John of Wallingford, Conn.; and probably thirdly, at Plymouth, in Nov. 1801, —— TODD.

Stephen Seymour settled in the Northbury Parish of Waterbury, which formed part of the town of Waterbury until 1780 and then was included in the town of Watertown until 1795, when it was incorporated as a separate town under the name of Plymouth. In 1764 he was ensign, on 6 May 1765 he was chosen lieutenant of the Northbury Company of the Militia at Waterbury, and in May 1777 he was elected captain of the Alarm List Company of Northbury Parish, Tenth Regiment, resigning this office in 1780 "on account of old age." About 1804 he removed with his son Amos to Sharon, where he spent the last few years of his life. In his will, dated at Plymouth 6 Feb. 1797 and proved at Sharon 15 Mar. 1808, he bequeaths to his son Amos his farming tools and all his right to the house and barn where he (Stephen) then lived, over and above his proportion with his brothers; and to his sons Gideon, Abel, Daniel, David, Zadock, Stephen, and Amos, and daughters Thankful, Mehitable, and Amy he bequeaths the rest of his estate, both real and personal, each son to have two seventeenth parts and each daughter one seventeenth part. These sums of money form part of their respective shares of the estate, which was distributed 22 Sept. 1808. Mary, second wife of Stephen, in her will dated 8 Jan. 1779 and proved 4 Nov. 1799, makes bequests to the Congregational Church of Northbury and to her husband Stephen Seymour, and also leaves one third of her land to son Amos Seymour, one third to Ebenezer Elwell, son of Samuel Elwell, and the remaining one third to her cousins, Mary, wife of Jonah Sanford, Molly Dunbar, daughter of the testatrix's brother John, Mary, daughter of Andrew Andrus and wife Elizabeth, and

GENEALOGICAL RESEARCH IN ENGLAND

Contributed by Hon. FREDERICK SAMUEL FISH, A.B., of South Bend, Ind., and communicated by the Committee on English Research

THE late Henry FitzGilbert Waters, in the course of his genealogical investigations in England under the auspices of the Committee on English Research, found in the records of the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, at Somerset House, London, the will of Anne Coggeshall of Castle Hedingham, co. Essex, widow, dated 16 Apr. 1645. This will, of which an abstract was published in the REGISTER for July 1893 and was later reprinted in Waters's "Genealogical Gleanings in England," showed that the testatrix was the mother of John Coggeshall, prominent among the founders of Rhode Island, who died in 1647 while serving as the first president of that Colony. The will contained much information about the children and grandchildren of the testatrix and mentioned other relatives. More recent researches in England have brought to light recorded copies of the wills of John Coggeshall, the grandfather, and John Butter, the uncle of John Coggeshall of Rhode Island, and records relating to this Coggeshall family have been found also in the parish registers of Halstead, co. Essex, in the lay subsidies for co. Essex, in two cases in Chancery, and in the Feet of Fines. Abstracts of these various records, including the will of Anne Coggeshall, previously published, are given in this article; and from them and from New England records the history of the family has been traced from the grandfather of President John Coggeshall to the establishment of the family in Rhode Island.

The Will of JOHN COGGESHALL the Elder of Halsted, co. Essex, gent., 27 December 1600. (P.C.C., Hele, 77.)

I give unto my son John Coggeshall, now dwelling in New England, my house and lands at Sibble Hedingham, now in the occupation of Nathan Browne and George Germin, with this proviso, that the said John Coggeshall shall no way molest my executors for the £40 received by appointment from him, being a legacy given him by his uncle John Batter. But if he shall molest my executors, then this demise shall be void and he shall have only 20s.; and then I give the said house and lands unto Henry Raymond (the son of Richard Raymond, deceased), my grandchild.* To my grandchild Anne Raymond, eldest daughter of said Richard, £40. FROM CHANCERY PROCEEDINGS*

26 June 1620. Complaint of JOHN COGGESHALL the Younger, son and heir of John Coggeshall the Elder late of Halstedd, co. Essex, gent., deceased, being in minority under the age of twenty-one years, by Anne Coggeshall, widow, his mother and guardian assigned, that the said John Coggeshall the Elder, your orator's late father, was in his lifetime lawfully seised, either in his demesne as of fee or of some other estate of inheritance, of one parcel of arable land containing twelve acres, called Millers Close, one wood or grove containing six acres, called Swiftes Grove, and two parcels of land and pasture containing together six acres, called Swiftes Croftes, the said premises lying in the hamlet of Stansted in the parish of Halstedd, and being so seised, and being somewhat unthrifty in his estate and not provident to preserve the same, and being out of money, did about April, 3 James I [1605], borrow of one John Sydaye of Pebmarsh, co. Essex, gent., £100, offering to mortgage unto him the said lands and premises for security for repayment of the said £100 and interest at the rate of £10 in the hundred at certain times. The said Sydaye, being then a common lender of money, and knowing your said orator's father to be a man both weak and improvident and much neglecting the good of himself, his wife, and children, and knowing the said premises to be a good pawn for such a sum of money, did lend your orator's father the said £100; and the said John Coggeshall, by his deed dated 3 April 1605, did grant, bargain, sell, enfeoff, and confirm unto him, the said John Sydaye, his heirs and assigns, the said premises to the use of the said John Coggeshall, the father, his heirs and assigns, for ever, on condition that he, his heirs, executors, and assigns, did pay or cause to be paid to the said Sydaye at his dwelling house in Pebmarsh £10 on 15 April 1606, £10 on 15 April 1607, and £110 on 15 April 1608. And the said John Coggeshall, by deed indented dated June 1605, did grant, enfeoff, and confirm unto the said John Sydaye certain parcels of land and pastures sometime parcel of Stansted park in the parish of Halstedd, upon condition for payment of £60 at certain times and places, the greater part of which several sums was paid by the said John Coggeshall the Elder in his lifetime to the said Sydaye, although not at the precise and direct time of payment in the mortgage appointed, whereby the said closes, lands, pasture, grove, and other premises, in extremity of the law, became forfeited. And in 6 James I [1608] the said John Coggeshall borrowed £120 or £140 more of the said John Sydaye; and John Sydaye, by deed of feoffment dated September 1608, reconveyed the said premises to the said John Coggeshall, on condition that he pay £300 to the said Sydaye, 20 June 1609, at the house of said Sydaye called Garnownes in Pebmarsh, or if not paid, the deed to be void. The complainant claims that the said John Coggeshall in his lifetime paid to the said John Sydaye £300 in money, corn, cattle, and other goods, whereby the said premises ought in equity to remain to the said John Coggeshall the Elder and his heirs, as if the mortgages had never been made. The said Sydaye in his lifetime permitted the said John Coggeshall the Elder and his heirs to enjoy peaceably the said lands and to take the profits thereof. Both the said Sydaye and John Coggeshall the Elder have departed this life, and, no acquittance by the said Sydaye having been made, the complainant has no redress at the common law. The said John Sydaye, either in his lifetime by will or in some other conveyance by him executed, hath made some conveyance whereby John Sydaie the Younger, one of the sons of William Sydaie of Buers, co. Suffolk, gent., by pretense of such devise or conveyance or at leastwise by descent, is heir unto the said John Sydaie the mortgagee, notwithstanding the payment of the said £300, and claims the said premises or some part of them; and, the said John, son of William Sydaie, being in his minority, the said William, as his father and guardian, has caused him to enter upon the said premises or some part of them and to make a lease thereof unto one Walter Bright, a man of little or no means and hardly to be found or inquired out, of purpose speedily to evict your orator and his tenants from the said premises and to hinder your orator of his due course by the aid of this Court. The said Bright, or the said William Sydaie in the said Bright's name, has brought several actions of ejectiones fermae against Richard Mullyns and John Diglett, your orator's tenants, to evict them and your orator, and your orator cannot find out the said Bright to serve process on him into this Court for your said orator's better relief in this extremity. Your orator complains that the said William Sydaie and his son John have the deeds, writings, and evidences in the case, and asks a process of subpoena against John Sidaie, Walter Bright, and William Sydaie, and a process of injunction against Walter Bright and his solicitors to prevent their proceeding with any suit against your orator and his tenants.

4 July 1620. Answer of WILLIAM SIDEY, gent. He denies that, as agreed by indenture of 28 September 1608, complainant's father paid £300, but says that he paid part of that sum, £148. 15s. remaining unpaid. And, for so much of the debt as he received, John Sidey reconveyed to the complainant's father the premises parcel of Stansted Park, and the said John Sidey did not afterwards claim any right or title to these premises. But for the other premises called Millers Close, Swifts Grove, and Swifts Croft, they remained to said Sidey, as security for the money still due. After the death of John Sidey complainant's father came to the defendant, executor of John Sidey's will, to agree and compound with him, confessing a great deal of money to be due but saying that he thought not much above £100; but the said John Coggeshall died before any agreement was reached. Defendant as executor has paid out in debts and legacies £200 more than deceased Sidey's personal estate amounted to, and so has made a lease to recover possession according to his rights therein. Being executor he acknowledges to have the deeds relating to Millers Close, Swifts Grove, and Swifts Croft, but no others. He is willing complainant shall have said land, if he will pay £148. 15s. and interest and damage for so long forbearance and detaining thereof.

5 July 1620. Answer of JOHN SIDEY, an infant of fourteen years, by William Townsend, his guardian and next friend. He answers as above, and also states that John Sidey died 2 August 1613, and that the £148. 15s. was owing eight months before that date. A lease of said premises was made to Walter Bright, Master of Arts, of Cambridge University, son and heir apparent of Thomas Bright, now or late Alderman of Bury St. Edmunds, co. Suffolk.*

27 October 1620. Answer of WALTER BRIGHT, gent., as above.

Replication of JOHN COGGESHALL [undated]. He denies that any part of said premises was reconveyed and declares all the defendants' answers to be false. (Chancery Proceedings, James I, Bills and Answers, Bundle C. 11, no. 34.)

* For this Bright family, with portrait of Thomas Bright, grandfather of Walter Bright, cf. REGISTER, vol. 13, pp. 97-98, and Bond's Genealogies of the Early Settlers of Watertown, Massachusetts, 2d edition, pp. 96 et seq. Henry Bright, grandson of Thomas, Sr., and first cousin of Walter, emigrated to New England in 1630 and was the ancestor of the Bright family of Watertown, Mass.

8 May 1640. To the Right Hon. Sir John Finch, Knight, Lord Keeper of the Great Seal of England.

Humbly complaining sheweth unto your Lordship your orator, Moyses GREENEWOOD of Hingham, co. Norfolk, worsted weaver, that, whereas in or about the month of December 1637, your orator using the trade of merchandising with wares and other commodities into a place called New England, being an Island beyond the Seas where divers of his Majesty's subjects have planted themselves and do inhabit, your orator being at the same time present in person in the said place called New England, one John Cockshall, merchant, living there, being the son of Anne Cockshall, widow, who lives here in England in or near Hinningham [sic, Hedingham] Castle, co. Essex, desired your orator to furnish him with some such wares as he, your orator, had then there in New England to sell, the said John Cockshall, to procure your orator to give him credit and to intrust him for such merchandise as he should then or afterwards buy of him, did make known unto your orator that he had £40 to receive of and from Anne Cockshall, his mother. And the better to induce your orator to leave the same, he shewed your orator a letter which he had formerly received out of this Kingdom from his mother, in and by which letter it did appear that since his departing out of this Kingdom into New England there was given unto him by a friend or kinsman of his here in this Kingdom £40 for his particular share, and that, if he would come over himself or send a letter of attorney to her, whereby she might have power to receive the same, and also send unto her a bill of exchange or some other discharge for the £40, she would pay it either to himself or to any other whom he would appoint to receive it or assign it over to be paid unto. Whereupon your orator in or about the said month of December did sell and deliver unto John Cockshall so many wares and other commodities at such reasonable rates and prices agreed upon between them as did amount unto £55 and upwards, and for payment of £40 thereof he, John Cockshall, did assign unto your orator the £40 so given unto him and to be paid by Anne Cockshall according to the effect of her letter so sent, as aforesaid. And John Cockshall did also deliver unto your orator a letter of attorney, whereby he did authorize Anne Cockshall, his mother, to receive the £40 for him, and also a bill of exchange or some other warrant in writing directed to Anne Cockshall, his mother, authorizing her to make payment of the said £40 to him, your said orator, accordingly. And your orator since that time, viz., in or about the month of December 1638, did deliver the said letter of attorney and bill of exchange made as aforesaid from John Cockshall for payment of the £40 to her, the said Anne Cockshall herself. And she upon the receipt thereof did receive the same, and did acknowledge it to be her son's handwriting, and said she was much behoden to your orator for giving her son so much credit as he had formerly done concerning the bargain of and for the said wares. And she did also acknowledge that she had written the said letter to her son concerning the £40, and desired your orator to have patience and give her son longer time for payment of the £40, alleging that at that time she was not provided of so much money; yet in private between them two she did then and there faithfully promise your orator that she would pay unto him the said £40 so soon as she had sold or put off some lands or goods which were intended or given for the payment thereof and some other moneys to be raised for and towards the payment of the other legacies and sums of money, whereof the said £40 were parcel. But now, notwithstanding Anne Cockshall hath sold the lands and goods and thereby got into her hands great sums of money, far more than will satisfy your orator's debt of £40, which she more easily and speedily effected by having obtained from your orator the said letter of attorney and bill of exchange, for want of which your orator cannot now conveniently take his course for recovery of the £40 by any action of law against John Cockshall, he living in New England, neither had your orator trusted him with the merchandise and goods so sold unto him, as aforesaid, but merely in regard that he made it appear unto him by Anne Cockshall's, his mother's, letter that there was £40 given him by a friend, the which by her letter she promised to pay unto him or to any that he should appoint, and for as much as she, the said Anne, upon the assignment and direction of John Cockshall, by bill under his hand, promised in private between your orator and her to pay him the £40, notwithstanding which promise she, knowing that your orator hath no witness to prove the same, so that he cannot bring any action of law against her, for want of witness to receive the £40 against her which she doth now refuse to pay unto him, your orator, notwithstanding that she hath the same in her hands and hath raised the same by sale of lands and other things which were given and intended should be sold to make moneys for that purpose and hath also since her promise to your orator paid divers other sums of money and legacies of that nature unto divers other persons and would not [sic] defraud your orator of his just debt, your orator asks for a writ of subpoena against the said Anne, to the end that she may answer unto the premises upon her corporal oath and may set forth by whom the £40 was given to John Cockshall and how it came to her hands and why she doth not pay the same unto your orator and when she did write the said letter to John Cockshall.

Answer of ANNE COCKSHALL, widow, defendant to the bill of complaint of Moses Greenewood, complainant. The defendant saith that she knoweth not (albeit it may be true, as in the said bill is in that belief alleged) that the complainant about the time in the bill mentioned did use the trade of merchandising with wares and commodities in New England, and saith that about twelve years ago, as this defendant remembereth, one John Butter, uncle of the John Cockshall in the bill named, by his (John Butter's) last will and testament did among other legacies bequeath to John Cockshall £40, and for the payment thereof to John Cockshall and for the other legacies mentioned in the said will did give power to certain persons in the same will named to sell certain lands and tenements whereof Butter was then seised within one year after the decease of John Butter's then wife. After whose death John Cockshall about ten years ago departed out of this Kingdom to reside in New England, in which Island this defendant believeth John Cockshall after his departure and arrival there did plant himself and ever since hath and still doth reside. And during his absence, that is about four years ago, John Butter's wife died, after whose decease this defendant wrote a letter, directed to her son John Cockshall, thereby certifying him of the death of the said Butter's wife, and also by the same letter requested him to send to this defendant a letter of attorney to receive for him the £40 bequeathed to him, as aforesaid, which letter, being written to the same effect as is herein before expressed, she, this defendant, did presently send away to be conveyed unto John Cockshall. And she did afterwards receive a letter from her said son in answer to the said letter sent unto him, as aforesaid, and this defendant did likewise therewith receive a letter of attorney made by John Cockshall to authorize this defendant to receive the £40 for him, John Cockshall. But this defendant saith that after the death of John Butter's wife, a kinswoman of him, the said John Butter, commenced a suit at the common law for the recovery of the lands devised to be sold for the payment of the £40 and of the other legacies, as aforesaid, pretending title to the said lands as next heir to John Butter. For which cause the lands, as this defendant was informed, could not then be sold, neither could this defendant receive the £40 for John Cockshall. And this defendant further saith that within a short time after she had received said letter and letter of attorney from John Cockshall and during the dependency of the said suit touching the title of the said lands she did receive another letter from her son, which second letter was delivered to this defendant by the complainant himself, and John Cockshall by his second letter desired her, when she should have received the said £40, to pay the same unto the complainant. And this defendant also saith that upon her receipt of the second letter she told the complainant that she had not received the £40, for that the lands devised to be sold for the payment thereof were then in suit and therefore could not be sold accordingly, and knew not whether she should receive the £40 for her son or no. And she further saith that after her receipt of the said second letter she was uncertain whether John Cockshall should enjoy his said legacy, and to the intent that John Cockshall should make payment or otherwise to satisfy to the complainant the debt due him from John Cockshall she sent another letter to John Cockshall, thereby certifying him that the lands intended to be sold for the payment of his legacy were then in suit and could not be sold and that she knew not whether he should enjoy his legacy or not and therefore desired him to pay the complainant the money due unto him. In answer to which letter this defendant, about Christmas 1639, did receive a third letter from John Cockshall, whereby he certified this defendant that he had there in New England satisfied unto the complainant the £40 mentioned in his second letter sent by him unto this defendant, as aforesaid, and therefore desired her (if she should receive his said legacy) to dispose of the £40 and to pay the same unto certain persons named in the same his last letter. But this defendant saith that she hath not hitherto received all or any part of the said legacy of £40 nor any satisfaction or security for the same or any part thereof. And therefore this defendant conceiveth, under favour of this Court, that she is neither in law nor equity chargeable with or liable to the payment of the £40 or any part thereof unto the complainant. And the rather also, that she is by her counsel informed that the last letter expressly contradicteth and forbiddeth her to pay the £40 unto the complainant and, contrary wise, directeth her to pay the same unto other persons in the same last letter particularly named. All which being taken together doth (as she is likewise informed) include and imply an absolute revocation of the power given her by John Cockshall his second letter to pay the £40 unto the complainant. And also the rather, because by the said last letter of John Cockshall he hath certified this defendant that he hath satisfied unto the complainant the moneys which were due unto him by John Cockshall, or such like words he, John Cockshall, in his last letter did use to that very purpose. And therefore and for other the reasons herein above expressed this defendant saith that she conceiveth and is informed that, in case she hath received or might receive the legacy of £40 since her receipt of the said last letter, yet nevertheless it would not be safe for her to pay or satisfy the same or any part thereof unto the complainant. And this defendant denieth that to her knowledge the complainant did sell and deliver unto John Cockshall so many wares or other commodities as did amount to £55, or that the complainant, to this defendant's remembrance, did deliver to this defendant any letter of attorney or bill of exchange or other writing from John Cockshall otherwise than is herein before expressed, or that she, this defendant, did promise to pay the £40 or any part thereof unto the complainant, as in the said bill is in that behalf pretended, unless she, this defendant, should first receive the same to her son's use. And this defendant also denieth that she hath sold or put off any lands or goods which were intended to be given for the payment of all or any part of the said legacy, neither in truth had this defendant any power by the said will to sell any lands or goods for the payment of the said legacy of £40. And this defendant also denieth that she hath thereby gotten unto her hands any sums of money sufficient to satisfy the said complainant's pretended debt of £40, as in the said bill is in that behalf surmised, and this defendant further denieth that she did certify John Cockshall by any letter that since his departing out of this Kingdom into New England there was given unto him by a friend or kinsman of his here in this Kingdom £40 for his particular part or share, as in the same bill is also falsely alleged.

The defendant was sworn at Castle Hedingham, co. Essex, 19 January 1640 [1640/1], before Edmund Brewer and Nicholas Jekyll. (Chancery Proceedings, Charles I, Bills and Answers, Bundle G. 35, no. 19.)

[From the foregoing records and other authorities referred to below the following brief pedigree, showing the immediate English connections of President John Coggeshall of Newport, R. I., has been prepared:

* Preserved in the Public Record Office, London.

† Translated from the Latin.

1. JOHN COGGESHALL "the Elder," of Halstead, co. Essex, gentleman, the testator of 1600, died 1 Jan. and was buried at Halstead 3 Jan. 1600/1.* He married first ELIZABETH ——; and secondly, probably about 1564 or earlier, KATHERINE ——, who survived him, was one of the two executors who proved his will at Braintree, co. Essex, 8 Jan. 1600/1, and was living 22 March 1608/9, when she and her son John were taxed 5s. on goods valued at £3.

He held Munchensies in Halstead, which is described in Morant's "Essex" as "a capital messuage, situated near Coggeshall bridge, on the left-hand side of the road leading from Halsted to Colchester. It is so called, from the noble family of Montchensy, ancient owners of Stansted-hall [in Halstead] Walter Montchensy, a younger branch of that family, held this estate in the reign of King Edward III. —John Coggeshall had it in the reigns of King Edward VI. Philip and Mary, and Elizabeth. He made great additions to the house in 1563, and died 1st January 1600. About the beginning of this [the eighteenth] century, it came into the possession of the industrious John Morley, born in this town [Halstead] 8th February 1655; who, in the room of the old house, built a handsome brick one, with good gardens, &c. From him, it passed to his son; and is now in his grandson, John Morley, Esq. . . . This house and estate is otherwise called Collups, or Blue Bridge." (Morant's "History and Antiquities of the County of Essex," published in 1768 and reprinted in 1816, vol. 2, page 257.) The "great additions" which John Coggeshall made to his house in 1563 may have been for the purpose of preparing a suitable abode for his first or, more likely, his second wife. He is said to have been at one time a merchant in London. At Halstead he built also an almshouse, which had on the architrave of the porch the following inscription: "John Coggeshall did Bild this Hous in A^o MD63." The arms underneath were Argent, a cross between four escallops sable; and below them was the motto: "Truth by the selfe."† The Lay Subsidies show that on 1 Mar. 1566/7 he was taxed 6s. on goods valued at £6, that on 20 Aug. 1572 and 20 Sept. 1599 he was taxed 8s. on goods valued at £8, and that on 16 Oct. 1600 he was taxed 21s. 4d. on goods valued at £8. In 1570, according to the Feet of Fines, he and Robert Swatstock purchased lands in Halstead.

Children by first wife:

- i. RICHARD, living 27 Dec. 1600, when he is named in his father's will.
- ii. JOHN ("the Elder"), living 27 Dec. 1600, when he is named in his father's will.

Children by second wife, baptized at Halstead:

- iii. KATHERINE, † bapt. 26 Dec. 1564; m. at Halstead, 2 Mar. 1583/4, THOMAS HARRINGTON. Children, living unm. 27 Dec. 1600, when they are named in the will of their grandfather, John Coggeshall:
1. Katherine. 2. Thomas. 3. Anne. 4. Susan.

* In Beaumont's History of Coggeshall, in Essex, published in 1890, pp. 197-202, may be found an account of the knightly family of Coggeshall, whose principal seat seems to have been at Coggeshall, co. Essex. The arms of this family are said to have been Argent, a cross between four escallops sable; and these were the arms that were placed on the almshouse built by John Coggeshall (1) at Halstead in 1563 (vide infra). But the exact relationship between the Coggeshalls of Halstead and the knightly family of the same name has not been discovered.

‡ Probably a child by the second wife, but possibly a child by the first wife.

iv. ELIZABETH,* bapt. 27 Feb. 1571/2; bur. at Halstead 23 Feb. 1604/5; m. REV. JOHN WATSON, vicar of Halstead, who was living 27 Dec. 1600. Children: 1. Elizabeth, living unm. 27 Dec. 1600. Five others.†

2. v. JOHN ("the Younger"), b. 24 July and bapt. 29 July 1576.

2. JOHN COGGESHALL (John), called "the Younger" to distinguish him from his half brother, John Coggeshall "the Elder," of Halstead, co. Essex, gentleman, born 24 July and baptized at Halstead 29 July 1576, was buried at Halstead 4 Aug. 1615. He married ANNE BUTTER, who, as Anne Coggeshall of Castle Hedingham, co. Essex, widow, made her will 16 Apr. 1645, which was proved 10 Nov. 1648. She was a sister of John Butter of Thorington, co. Essex, yeoman, the testator of 1624/5, who in his will (q.v.) names many of his relatives, and leaves £40 to each of the three children of his sister, Anne Coggeshall. In 1640 Anne Coggeshall, widow, was defendant in a bill of complaint (vide supra) brought in Chancery by Moses Greenwood of Hingham, co. Norfolk, England, who claimed the £40 which had been left to her son, John Coggeshall, by his uncle, John Butter, said Greenwood having, as he alleged, sold merchandise to John Coggeshall after the latter had settled in New England.

John Coggeshall was seised of sundry parcels of land in Halstead, which in 1605 he mortgaged to John Sydaye of Pebmarsh, co. Essex, gentlemen, as is set forth in the bill of complaint brought in Chancery in 1620 by his son John (vide supra). In the lay subsidies for co. Essex, under date of 22 Mar. 1608/9, he and his mother are taxed 5s. on goods valued at £3.

Children, baptized at Halstead:

3. i. JOHN, bapt. 9 Dec. 1601.

ii. ANNE, bapt. 2 Apr. 1604; living 16 Apr. 1645, when she is named in her mother's will; m. not earlier than 26 Jan. 1624/5 (see will of her uncle, John Butter) RICHARD RAYMOND, who d. not later than 16 Apr. 1645, s. of Henry and Joane (Perry) of Much Dunmow, co. Essex. Children (order uncertain), living 16 Apr. 1645, when they are named in the will of their grandmother, Anne Coggeshall, the two daughters at least being then unm.: 1. Henry. 2. Anne (eldest dau.). 3. John. 4. Richard. 5. Elizabeth.

iii. KATHERINE, bapt. 18 Apr. 1607; d. unm.; bur. at Castle Hedingham 14 May 1640.

3. JOHN COGGESHALL (John, John), of Castle Hedingham, co. Essex, and of New England, mercer and merchant, baptized at Halstead, co. Essex, 9 Dec. 1601,‡ died at Newport, R. I., 27 Nov.

* Probably a child by the second wife, but possibly a child by the first wife.

† Elizabeth, daughter of John Coggeshall, "was married to the Rev. John Watson, vicar of Halstead, . . . and was buried at Halstead, where there is a small mural brass to her memory, now fixed to the south wall of the south aisle of the church. Incised on this brass is the figure of a woman, attired in the usual Elizabethan costume with ruff and high crowned hat, kneeling at a fald-stool on which is an open book. Before her are the kneeling figures of two sons, and behind her three kneeling daughters and a chrysom babe. Beneath is this inscription, Here lieth Elizabeth the wife of John Watson the daughter of John Coggeshall gent. who was buried February the 23rd Ao. Dni. 1604." — The East Anglian, loc. cit.

‡ In Austin's Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island, p. 49, and in Rhode Island Historica l Magazine, vol. 5, p. 174, the year of John Coggeshall's birth is given as 1591. This date was obtained by accepting as correct the age at death as given on his gravestone; but the gravestone 1647. He married in England MARY ——, born, probably in England, about 1604, died in New England 8 Nov. 1684.

In 1620, while still a minor, John Coggeshall was complainant in a bill in Chancery, brought for him by Anne Coggeshall, widow, his mother and guardian, in regard to certain lands in Halstead which had been mortgaged by his father in 1605 (vide supra). On 17 Dec. 1628, according to the Lay Subsidies, as "John Coxall," he was taxed at Castle Hedingham 4d. on lands of the yearly value of 20s. On 1 June 1629, according to the Feet of Fines, John Coggeshall, gentleman, and Mary his wife, together with John Warman and Sarah his wife, sold lands in Halstead and Sible Hedingham, co. Essex. On 22 June 1632, as "John Coxsall," he appears in a list of thirty-three men "transported to New-England to the Plantacōn there" who have "tendred and taken the oath of allegiance according to the Statute."* Soon afterwards, probably accompanied by his wife Mary and his children, he sailed for New England in the ship Lion, and arrived at Boston on 16 Sept. 1632. He probably settled first at Roxbury, Mass., as his name and that of his wife are found in the list of members of Rev. John Eliot's church there. He was admitted freeman on 6 Nov. 1632. Not long afterwards he removed to Boston, where, with his wife Mary and servant Anne Shelley, he was admitted to the First Church 20 Apr. 1634. He was chosen a deacon in this church, was one of the selectmen of Boston in 1634, and was a deputy from Boston to the General Court in 1634, 1635, 1636, and 1637. His name is preceded by the prefix "Mr." Because he supported Rev. John Wheelwright and Mrs. Hutchinson, he was expelled from the General Court and disfranchised on 2 Nov. 1637, and soon afterwards was disarmed. About this time, in Dec. 1637, according to the bill of complaint (vide supra) brought in Chancery in 1640 against his mother, he purchased merchandise valued at £55 and upwards from Moses Greenewood of Hingham, co. Norfolk, England, who was then in New England, and authorized his mother, Anne Coggeshall, to receive the legacy of £40 left to him by the will of his uncle, John Butter, and to pay it to the said Greenewood as partial payment for this merchandise. In the following year he went to the Island of Aquidneck (Rhode Island), where, at Pocasset, later Portsmouth, 7 Mar. 1637/8, he and eighteen others signed a compact incorporating themselves "into a Bodie Politick." On 28 Apr. 1639 he and eight others signed another compact, preparatory to settling farther south in the island, at Newtown, afterwards Newport. This compact was signed by William Coddington as judge and by John Coggeshall as one of the elders. At Newport John Coggeshall received next to the largest share of land, his holdings amounting to nearly four hundred acres, situated in the southern part of the town. He was an assistant in 1640-1644, and was set up several years after his death. According to the Friends' record (Arnold's Vital Record of Rhode Island, vol. 7, p. 95) his age at death was 48 years.

* Hotten's Original Lists, p. 150.

in 1647 was chosen moderator of the first Général Assembly of the Colony, for which Roger Williams had procured a charter in England. When this Assembly came to elect the general officers of the Colony, John Coggeshall was chosen president, and he died while holding this office, 27 Nov. 1647. He was buried a few rods west of his house, on his own land in Newport, and his descendants have erected a monument to his memory in the little burial ground, at the corner of Coggeshall and Victoria Avenues.*

THE PUBLICATION OF VITAL RECORDS OF MASSACHUSETTS TOWNS*

Compiled by the EDITOR

IN 1918 the Massachusetts Legislature, as a measure of war economy, repealed the Vital Records Act of 1902, which provided for the preservation in print of the vital records, prior to 1850, of Massachusetts towns; and accordingly this important work, carried on for more than sixteen years by the aid and under the supervision of the State and far advanced towards completion, is unfinished, and will remain so, unless arrangements are made for continuing it without the help of an appropriation from the Commonwealth. It seems fitting, therefore, at this time, to describe what has already been accomplished in printing in book form the vital records of Massachusetts towns, both under the Act of 1902 and also independently of the supervision of the State, and then to present the plan in accordance with which the New England Historic Genealogical Society, if it receives sufficient financial support, intends to continue and, it is hoped, to complete the task from which the State has withdrawn its aid.

Previous to 1902 the vital records of a small number of towns in Massachusetts had been printed in book form, either at the expense of the towns themselves or by societies or individuals. Some of these volumes contained verbatim copies of the original records; in others the facts found in the original records were arranged alphabetically by surnames or in some other way preferred by the compilers. Even since 1902 such books have been published from time to time. But in 1902 the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, chiefly in response to representations made by the New England Historic Genealogical Society, began to encourage the printing of vital records by undertaking to purchase a large number of copies of each book offered, the General Court adopting a measure which was approved by the Governor on 11 June 1902 and was entitled "An Act To provide for the Preservation of Town Records of Births, Marriages and Deaths Previous to the Year Eighteen Hundred and Fifty." By this law the Secretary of the Commonwealth was directed to purchase, at a fixed rate per page, 500 copies of the record of the births, marriages, and deaths, previous to 1850, of any town in Massachusetts, whenever such record should be printed and verified in the manner required by the Commissioner of Public Records and the Board of Free Library Commissioners, acting jointly, and the work should appear to them to have been prepared with accuracy, provided that not more than $15,000 should be expended by authority of this act in any one year. The volumes thus purchased were to be distributed by the Secretary to certain public offices, libraries, and historical societies in Massachusetts and to certain libraries outside of Massachusetts.

In this act no provision was made for the printing of records of births, marriages, and deaths occurring since 1849, because from that time on town clerks have been required by law to send each year to the State House in Boston copies of the vital records entered in their town books during the previous year. In case, therefore, the original vital records of a town for this later period should be damaged or destroyed, an official copy of such records could be consulted at the State House, where the excellent system of indexing employed by the State officials makes it easy to find the copy of the record of any birth, marriage, or death that has been entered in town records in Massachusetts since the town clerks began to make their annual returns to the State authorities. The loss or destruction, however, of the vital records of a town prior to 1850 which had not been printed would in all probability involve the loss of all the information contained in them, except in the rare cases where manuscript copies are in existence or items relating to some particular family have been incorporated in a family history.

From the enactment of the Vital Records Act in 1902 down to its repeal, which took effect on 1 Dec. 1918, the work of preparing and publishing these vital records in the form approved by the State authorities was carried on by the New England Historic Genealogical Society and by a few other societies and individuals. During this period of sixteen and one-half years the Secretary of the Commonwealth purchased and distributed to the public offices, libraries, and historical societies designated in the Act 169 volumes, containing the vital records, prior to 1850, of 149 Massachusetts towns and a part of the vital records of two other towns. Organizations and individuals not entitled to receive these volumes free of charge from the State have been able to purchase them from the several publishers, who have printed and offered for sale a few extra copies of each book. The vital records of 26 other towns, in whole or in part, have also been published in book form; but, as many of them were printed before 1902 and as they are for the most part not arranged on the same plan as the books purchased by the State, they are not included in the series authorized by the Act of 1902. Some of them, however, have been prepared and printed with the most painstaking regard for accuracy, and are extremely useful to those engaged in genealogical, historical, or legal research.

The following list, arranged by counties, shows the progress made, up to 1 Jan. 1919, in printing in book form the vital records of Massachusetts towns, and indicates the extent of the work still remaining to be done. No attempt has been made to include in this list towns whose records, in whole or in part, have been published in periodicals but have not been reprinted in book form.* Under each county in the State are given first the number and names of the towns whose records have been printed, with the date of publication, number of pages, and other necessary explanations, in so far as it is possible to furnish such information. Names of towns whose records are not included in the series authorized by the State are printed in italics, and towns whose records have been published by the New England Historic Genealogical Society are indicated by an asterisk after the name. Then follow the number and names of the towns incorporated before 1850 whose records have not yet been printed. A third group comprises the number and names of the towns which have been incorporated since 1849, with the year of incorporation. The printing of the vital records of the towns in this group, for the reason stated above, was not provided for in the Act of 1902. A summary, arranged by counties, follows the detailed list. Towns which existed as separate municipalities prior to 1850 but were afterwards annexed to other towns are placed in the counties to which they belonged before such annexation.

In this summary the total number of towns in Massachusetts is given as 361. This number includes seven former towns which have been annexed to other towns, the actual number of towns in the State to-day being 354. Of these, 43 were incorporated after 31 Dec. 1849, and the publication of their vital records was not provided for in the Act of 1902. To the 311 remaining towns, which were incorporated before 1850, there should be added five towns incorporated before 1850 but later annexed to other towns, the total number of towns whose records were subject to publication in accordance with the Act of 1902 being 316.

Of these 316 towns, the vital records of 149 and a part of the vital records of two others have been published in 169 volumes containing 51,265 pages, and have been accepted by the State under the provisions of the Vital Records Act of 1902; the records of 26 others, in whole or in part, have been published in book form prior to or independently of the Act; and the records of 141 towns, including the two towns whose records have been printed in part in the State series, remain unpublished. The records of almost one-half (more than 46¾%) of the towns existing as separate municipalities prior to 1850 have therefore already been published in the form approved by the State, and, as far as the number of printed pages is concerned, probably a much larger proportion of the work has been completed in this form, for many of the towns having voluminous records are among those whose records have been printed. If the 26 other towns whose records have been published are added to the towns whose printed records have been accepted by the State, it is evident that the vital records of considerably more than one-half (nearly 55¾%) of the 316 towns have been published in book form.

The importance of preserving in print the vital records of the 141 towns whose records remain unpublished and of making them accessible in libraries and public offices cannot be questioned. In spite of laws providing for their protection, unpublished vital records are liable to damage or destruction, and this is especially true of church, cemetery, and private records. Town, church, and private records are sometimes lost, misplaced, mutilated, or stolen. With the lapse of time and with repeated handling they frequently become illegible, worn, or torn. In many cases epitaphs furnish the only record of deaths, and yet gravestones occasionally disappear, and inscriptions suffer from the action of the elements and the defacing of the stones. But the publication of vital records ensures for centuries the preservation of the genealogical information that they contain.

The records printed under the Act of 1902 have included material taken not only from town records but also (except in a few of the earlier volumes) from church, gravestone, and private records; and the books thus prepared and published have proved their value to lawyers, trustees, executors of wills, administrators of estates, conveyancers, and all who seek to determine questions of relationship as affecting rights to property, as well as to students of family history and genealogists. The records not published are practically inaccessible, except to those living in the locality where they are to be found, although persons interested in the records of a single Massachusetts town may be scattered far and wide over the American continent.

It is, therefore, exceedingly desirable that the work of preserving in print these vital records and making them accessible to the public should not be suspended, and that the records not yet printed should be published in the form adopted for the volumes already issued under the provisions of the Act of 1902. For this reason the New England Historic Genealogical Society, to whose efforts some seventeen years ago the enactment of the Vital Records Act was largely due, has decided to continue this series of publications, provided that enough subscriptions are secured to defray 80% of the expenses of the work. It has already published 70 volumes of vital records in the form approved by the State authorities, and these volumes contain the records of 65 towns—nearly one-half of the towns whose records have been purchased and distributed by the Commonwealth. It now plans to publish from 1000 to 1250 pages annually, and is receiving subscriptions, either for all the books that it may publish in this series or for the vital records of one or more towns of especial interest to the subscriber, at the rate of 2½ cents per printed page. This price has been fixed after a careful consideration of the cost of all the labor and materials entering into the production of books of this kind, and will include binding, but not the expense of delivering the books by mail or express. The books will be uniform in size, appearance, general arrangement, and sources of information with the previous volumes of the series, and the standard of accuracy already established will be maintained.

The Vital Records of Plympton and of Nantucket are in an advanced stage of preparation; the former book will probably be ready for printing before the close of 1919 and the latter book in the course of 1920. The Vital Records of Taunton, Dartmouth, and New Bedford are next in order, and the records of other towns also are in preparation. The Society expects to be able to publish, within a few years, the vital records down to 1850 of most Massachusetts towns whose records have not yet been printed.

In continuing the publication of these records, so important to the present generation and to posterity, the Society is confident that it may rely on the coöperation of the libraries, historical and genealogical societies, and individuals who have hitherto subscribed to the volumes of this series; it counts also on the patriotic support of the greater part of the numerous institutions which have in the past received these books, free of charge, from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; and it looks for substantial encouragement in this undertaking to the many growing and progressive libraries and historical societies, throughout the United States and even beyond its borders, which have been founded in regions whither men and women of New England ancestry have gone to establish new homes.

DEATHS IN STRATHAM, N. H., 1777-1826

Transcribed by Miss ANNA MATHES LANE and Miss ABBY FRANCES LANE of Stratham and Dover, N. H., and communicated by GEORGE WALTER CHAMBERLAIN, M.S., of Malden, Mass.

In the REGISTER, vol. 30, pages 426-428, there was printed, under the title "Deaths in Stratham, N. H., commencing August 20, 1741," the first instalment of a record of deaths kept by Dea. Samuel Lane of Stratham. The publication of this record was continued from time to time in subsequent issues of the REGISTER (vol. 32, pages 48-50; vol. 47, pages 19-20, 477-480, and vol. 48, pages 27-31, 337-343), and ceased with two entries dated Nov. 30, 1776.

The original record kept by Deacon Lane extends almost to the close of the year 1806, and some one has added to it the record of the Deacon's own death, 29 Dec. 1806. His son, Jabez Lane, kept a similar record of deaths in his diaries, entering the dates and names on the second page of the diary for each year. The first part of Jabez Lane's record overlaps that kept by his father, and his entries come down to the end of March 1810. George Lane, son of Jabez, entered the record of his father's death, 3 Apr. 1810, and continued the list to the latter part of 1826. The almost total lack of death entries in the town records of Stratham during this period makes these private records especially valuable.

Below are given the records kept by these three men—father, son, and grandson, beginning at the point where the publication of Dea. Samuel Lane's record in the REGISTER ceased nearly twenty-five years ago. For the years in which both Deacon Lane and his son Jabez recorded deaths Deacon Lane's entry of each death is given first, and any variations from or additions to his record found in the entries made by his son are added in brackets or placed in footnotes, and are indicated by the letters J. L. The records kept by George Lane have been arranged in chronological order. The original books, with a collection of diaries, are in the possession of Miss Abby Frances Lane, daughter of Dea. Edmund J. Lane and great-granddaughter of Dea. Samuel Lane, and are preserved in a fireproof safe in her Stratham home.

In the introduction to the records already printed in the REGISTER (vol. 30, page 426) it is stated that Samuel Lane was born at Hampton, N. H., 6 Oct. 1718, that he removed thence to Stratham 11 June 1741, and that he remained there until his death, which took place 29 Dec. 1806. He was selectman and town clerk several years, a land surveyor, employed by the governors under the Crown and after the Revolution, deacon of the church for thirty-five years, and elder in the church for the remainder of his life. His house was near the burying ground, and he kept the palls which it was then the custom to use—a large one, and a smaller one for children. Therefore a death occurring in Stratham could hardly have escaped his notice.

On the second page of Dea. Samuel Lane's record of deaths is found the following statement, in a fine, distinct handwriting:

I think it may be proper to remark that in or about the years 1745 & 1746 there Died at Cape Breton & other places Several persons that belong to this Town viz

PROCEEDINGS OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC
GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

By HENRY EDWARDS SCOTT, A.B., Recording Secretary

Boston, Massachusetts, 2 October 1918. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M.

In the absence of the President and of all the Vice-Presidents, the meeting was called to order by the Recording Secretary, and, on motion, Professor George Hunt Barton of Cambridge, Mass., was elected Chairman pro tempore.

The minutes of the May meeting were approved, and the reports of the Corresponding Secretary, Librarian, Historian, and Council were accepted, the Council reporting the names of twenty-one persons who had been elected resident members.

On motion it was unanimously

Voted, That the New England Historic Genealogical Society hereby expresses its appreciation of the loss that it has sustained in the death, on 16 May 1918, of Hon. Louis Atwood Cook, elected a Councillor of the Society in February of this year, and that it extends to his widow and children its heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement.

On behalf of and by direction of the Council the Recording Secretary submitted a proposed amendment to Article 1 of Chapter III of the By-Laws, and on motion it was referred to the Special Committee on Revision of the By-Laws, with a request for a report at the November meeting of the Society.

* A memorandum found among the papers of Dea. Samuel Lane reads: "My son in Law Wm. Bordman Died at Newmarket March 30, 1804."

The lecture announced for this meeting having been postponed, in conformity with the regulations of the health officials in regard to public assemblies during the prevailing epidemic of influenza, the meeting at 2.45 P.M. adjourned.

6 November. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the October meeting were approved, and the reports of the Corresponding Secretary, Librarian, Historian, and Council were accepted, the Council reporting the names of four persons who had been elected resident members.

The Recording Secretary read a report from the Special Committee on Revision of the By-Laws, stating that it had considered the proposed amendment to Article 1 of Chapter III of the By-Laws, referred to it by the Society at the stated meeting on 2 October 1918, and that it recommended that said amendment be adopted, in such form that the second paragraph of said article, when amended, shall read as follows:

Stated Meetings of the Society shall be held in its house, or elsewhere as the Council may decide, on the first Wednesday in every month except June, July, August and September, at half past two o'clock in the afternoon, or at such other day or hour as may be designated by the Council, notice of which shall be sent at least three days before the day of the meeting.

On motion said report was accepted, and it was Voted. That the proposed amendment to Article 1 of Chapter III of the By-Laws, in the form recommended by the Special Committee on Revision of the By-Laws, be adopted.

By ballot the following were unanimously elected members of the Nominating Committee: George Walter Chamberlain, Mrs. Florence Conant Howes, Charles Edward Mann, George Ritchie Marvin, and Mrs. Mary Stickney Randall.

President Baxter then presented Countess Laura de Gozdawa Turczynowicz, President of the Polish Reconstruction Association, Inc., of New York City, who spoke on When the Prussians Came to Poland. Madame de Turczynowicz, the American wife of a Polish nobleman, gave a vivid and thrilling narrative of the inhuman treatment to which she and her little children were subjected when her adopted country was overrun by the Germans in the early months of the war.

In response to a call from President Baxter a rising vote of thanks was given to the speaker, and the President then declared the meeting dissolved.

After the meeting many of the members and their friends availed themselves of the opportunity of expressing to the Countess their appreciation of her tragic story.

4 December. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the November meeting were approved, and the reports of the Corresponding Secretary, Librarian, Historian, and Council were accepted, the Council reporting the names of six persons who had been elected resident members.

The report of the Nominating Committee was read and accepted.

The President appointed Messrs. George Sawin Stewart and Hosea Starr Ballou as auditors to audit the accounts of the Treasurer for the current year.

President Baxter then presented the speaker of the afternoon, Mr. John Albree of Boston, a former Recording Secretary of the Society, who gave a unique and entertaining paper, entitled The Art of Singing in the Old Bay Colony. A mixed quartette, under the direction of Mr. Arthur B. Keene of Lynn, sang pleasing selections to illustrate the theme, and led the audience twice in the singing of old hymns. The most noteworthy of these was the One Hundredth Psalm, mentioned by Longfellow in the Courtship of Miles Standish, and sung for the first time in two hundred years by a Boston audience at this December meeting of the Society. Mr. Albree also showed rare psalm books—one of them printed in 1612—and other exhibits, which added to the value of a lecture which had attracted over three hundred members and guests.

On motion of Mr. Walter Kendall Watkins a vote of thanks was given to Mr. Albree and his assistants, and the President then declared the meeting dissolved.

After the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

NOTES

It having come to the attention of this Society that certain genealogists and publishers have used the name of the Society in connection with their own enterprises, the Society again desires to state that it has NO genealogical representatives in this country or in England, nor is it in any way connected with any publications other than those that it issues over its own name at 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE

HERALDRY.—The Committee on Heraldry of the New England Historic Genealogical Society strongly recommends that all coats of arms which can be proved to be authentic be offered for record with this Society. The arrangements for the making and preservation of such records are complete, and the volume of recorded arms has been begun by the entry therein of a number of well-authenticated coats. Printed forms and directions for the making of applications may be obtained from the Committee, and all communications on this subject should be addressed to the Committee on Heraldry, New England Historic Genealogical Society, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

Without taking any position with reference to the propriety of assuming arms, the Committee will be glad to examine arms or heraldic devices which any person or organization desires to assume, and give advice as to whether the same are heraldically correct or whether they violate a right of exclusive use heretofore acquired by others.

GENEALOGIES IN PREPARATION.—Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U. S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates of birth, marriage, residence, and death. All names should be given in full if possible. No initials should be used when the full name is known.

HON. PRENTISS CUMMINGS, A.B., LL.B.

By Mrs. MARY INGRAHAM DAVIES of Brookline, Mass.

PRENTISS CUMMINGS of Brookline, Mass., a life member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society since 1908 and a member of its Council for the three years 1909-1911, died suddenly at his summer residence at Paris Hill, Me., 18 September 1917. He was born at Sumner, Me., 10 September 1840, the son of Whitney and Mary Hart (Prentiss) Cummings.

Although tradition points to Scotland as the ancestral land of the Cummings family, no record of the birthplace or parentage of Isaac¹ Cummings, the immigrant ancestor of the New England family to which Prentiss Cummings belonged, has been discovered. Isaac¹ Cummings received a grant of 35 acres of land at Watertown, Mass., in 1636, was a land owner at Ipswich, Mass., as early as 25 July 1638, and owned a house lot in Ipswich Village 9, 2 mo. 1639. He was a commoner at Ipswich in 1639, and on 26, 6 mo. of the same year sold 7 acres of land near the highway leading to Jeffries Neck. In the same year, also, he possessed a farm lying partly in Ipswich and partly in Topsfield. He was admitted freeman 18 May 1642. On 1, 2 mo. 1652 he bought of Samuel Symonds and his wife Martha, for £30, a farm of 150 acres in Topsfield, and in this town he spent the remainder of his life, being for many years a deacon of the church there and holding at various times sundry town offices. He deposed in March 1666, aged 65 years, and died between 8, 3 mo. 1677, the date of his will, and 22 May 1677, the date of the inventory of his estate. His estate was appraised at £166. 1s. 6d., with debts amounting to £19. 16s. 5d. His wife is not mentioned in his will, and her name is unknown. He left two sons and two daughters.

John² Cummings, elder son of Isaac, was born about 1630, and married Sarah Howlett, daughter of Thomas and Alice (French) of Ipswich. He settled first in Rowley Village (later the town of Boxford), Mass., where he owned land and was taxed in 1661. By his father's will he received the homestead of 40 acres in Topsfield, and he and his wife were members of the Topsfield church. About 1680 he removed with his wife and family to Dunstable, Mass., where he was one of the first settlers, a selectman in 1682, and a few years later one of the founders of the church. He was town clerk of Dunstable for several years, and died 1 December 1700. His widow died 7 December of the same year. They were the parents of eleven children.

Their third son and third child, Nathaniel³ Cummings, born at Rowley Village 10 September 1659, married at Chelmsford, Mass., 14 April 1697, Abigail Parkhurst of Chelmsford, who was living as his widow on 3 February 1729. He, too, settled in Dunstable, and had four children, all boys.

Nathaniel¹ Cummings of Dunstable, second son of Nathaniel,³ was born at Dunstable 8 September 1699, and married Elizabeth Whitney of Stow, Mass. He died before 1760, but his wife seems to have survived him and to have lived to an advanced age. They had nine children.

Their third son and third child was Oliver⁵ Cummings, who was born at Dunstable 10 April 1728 and died there 15 August 1810. He married at Killingly, Conn., Sibyla Whitney, who was born 4 February 1733 and died 16 December 1812, daughter of Israel and Hannah (Learned) of Groton, Mass., and Killingly, Conn. They resided at Dunstable, and had five children. He served with the Massachusetts troops in the Revolutionary War, being captain of the Ninth (West Dunstable) Company in the Seventh (Middlesex County) Regiment, commanded by Col. Simeon Spaulding. His commission was issued 31 May 1776.

His eldest child, Oliver⁶ Cummings, was born at Dunstable 12 July 1757, and died at Sumner, Me., 2 July 1823. He, also, served in the Revolution, being a fifer in the company of which his father was captain and taking part in the Battle of White Plains in 1776. After the War he became one of the first settlers of Sumner, Me., then a wilderness, migrating thither to take up a lot of land assigned either to him or to his father as a Revolutionary soldier. He is said to have felled the first tree cut in that town. After he had begun his clearing he found that he had made a mistake as to his location, and therefore he returned to Dunstable for more information. In the following year he went back to Sumner, made a clearing in another part of the town, and built a log house. As soon as he had a home to offer he married Betsy Bailey, who had been brought up in his father's family. Later he became a well-to-do farmer, and built a house, before 1800, which was standing in 1898. He married secondly, 1 February 1804, Phoebe Churchill, who was born at Plympton, Mass., 18 January 1779, daughter of Joshua and Elizabeth (Bonney), who moved from Plympton to Hartford, Me., in 1800. Joshua Churchill also was a soldier of the Revolution.* Oliver Cummings had two children by his first wife and three children by his second wife.

Whitney⁷ Cummings, youngest child of Oliver⁶ and Phoebe (Churchill) Cummings, was born at Sumner 18 December 1808, and died at Buckfield, Me., 4 March 1881. He married, 27 March 1833, Mary Hart Prentiss, who was born at Paris, Me., 26 January 1807 and died at Buckfield 18 February 1878, daughter of Henry and Mary (Hart). Henry Prentiss, who was of Paris, was a son of Rev. Caleb and Pamela (Mellen) Prentiss of Reading, Mass., Pamela Mellen being a daughter of Rev. John Mellen of Lancaster, Mass.* Mary Hart, whom Henry Prentiss married in 1804, was a daughter of Dr. John Hart of Reading, who was an Army surgeon in the Revolution, first in Col. William Prescott's Massachusetts regiment from 1 May 1775 until August 1775, then in the Seventh Continental Infantry during the year 1776, and from 1 January 1777 in the Second Massachusetts Regiment, serving directly under Washington. In November 1783 he was retained in Jackson's regiment, in the Continental Army, and served until 20 June 1784. He died 27 April 1826. He was appointed by Washington one of the medical inspectors to supervise the execution of André, and a letter which he wrote about Arnold's treason and André's arrest and execution was communicated by Hon. Prentiss Cummings to the REGISTER of July 1915 (vol. 69, pages 224-226). Mary Hart Prentiss, who became the wife of Whitney Cummings, was a school-teacher of local note, a reader of good books, and an acceptable writer both in prose and verse. She was a frequent contributor to periodicals over the signature of "Oithona," and several of her poems are printed in the "History of Paris." She took much interest in young people, to whom she had the gift of imparting something of her own inspiration and ambition. Whitney Cummings was a farmer, first on his father's farm, later in West Sumner, and afterwards in Buckfield. At various dates he owned and operated all the different mills in West Sumner, and was postmaster from April 1837 to August 1855. He held also some of the town offices, and was for many years a deacon in the Baptist Church. His oldest child, Isabella, was married to Joseph Sprague Ingraham of Bangor, Me., and they were the parents of the writer of this memoir. His second child, Prentiss, is the subject of this memoir. A third child, Mellen, died young.†

Prentiss Cummings received his early education in the public schools, and at the age of fourteen began work in the office of the Oxford Democrat, where he remained for three years. He then entered upon a college preparatory course at the Hebron (Me.) Academy, and continued his studies at Phillips Academy, Exeter, N. H. Graduating at this school in 1860, he entered Harvard College, where he attained high honors, was elected to the fraternity of the Phi Beta Kappa in his Junior year, and received the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1864. The following year he was principal of the high school at Portland, Me., and began the study of law in the office of Nathan Webb, afterwards a judge of the United States District Court. In the autumn of 1865 he entered the Harvard Law School, and received there the degree of Bachelor of Laws in 1869. While a student in the Law School he was, in 1866, owing to some sudden changes in the Harvard teaching staff, unexpectedly appointed tutor in Latin in the College, and was in charge of the Latin work of the Sophomore Class until the winter of 1870, when he entered a law office in Boston. In the summer of 1870 he was admitted to the bar in Boston, and began the practice of his profession.

From 1874 to 1880 he was chief assistant to the United States district attorney in Boston, and had almost exclusive charge of the legal business of the Government in this important district. A Republican in politics, he represented, in the years 1881, 1882, and 1883, Ward 10, the principal business ward of Boston, in the Boston Common Council, and in 1884 and 1885 he represented the same ward in the lower branch of the Massachusetts General Court. Still higher political honors came unsought to him a decade later, when, being then a resident of Brookline, Mass., he was elected for two successive years, 1905 and 1906, senator from the second Norfolk senatorial district. He declined a nomination for a third term. His far-reaching connections and associations—business, political, and social, together with his own abilities, made him a man of influence on Beacon Hill, and he always felt that his district was one which any man might be proud to represent.

For some fifteen years Mr. Cummings was prominent in street railway circles. In 1885 he was elected president of the Cambridge Railroad, and held this office until the consolidation of the company in 1887 with other Boston street railway companies as the West End Street Railway Company. He became vice-president of the new company, and continued in this position until the company was leased in 1897 to the Boston Elevated Railway Company. He was then advisory counsel of the last-mentioned company until the winter of 1900, when having reached the age of sixty years, he withdrew from further participation in its management.

In 1885 Mr. Cummings built a house in Brookline, which was thenceforth his home. He became active in town affairs, and was chairman of the School Committee, a trustee of the Public Library, and also a trustee of the local savings bank. From 1904 until his death he was president of the Mount Auburn Cemetery Corporation.

He was a member of the Brookline Thursday Club, and a member and at one time president of the Boston Browning Society. Before both of these organizations he read from time to time papers and lectures on scientific and literary subjects. His early interest in the ancient classics led him to specialize in Homer and Homeric literature, and in 1910 he published a translation of the Iliad, in hexameter verse. His interest in genealogy was stimulated by the fact that all his male ancestors of the Revolutionary period, both on his father's and his mother's side, who were of the right age for military service, took an active part in the struggle for independence, and by virtue of his descent from Dr. John Hart, previously mentioned in this article, he succeeded to membership in the Society of the Cincinnati. He not only served on the Council of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, but was a member of its Committee on Increase of Membership for the year 1909 and an occasional contributor to the REGISTER. He was also a member of the Union Club of Boston and president of the Boston Chess Club. For lack of space his untiring deeds of kindness to every human being who came within the radius of his life must remain unrecorded.

Mr. Cummings married, 25 February 1880, Annie D. Snow of Cambridge, Mass., who died 5 January 1899, without issue.

EARLY VITAL RECORDS OF JEFFERSON, ME.

Communicated by HAROLD LEWIS BOND of Newton, Mass.

THE town of Jefferson, in Lincoln Co., Me., was incorporated in 1807. The first volume of the records of the town covers the period from the incorporation to 1819, and the second volume the period from 1819 to 1830. A small, thin, calf-covered book, entitled "Records of Births and Deaths in the Town of Jefferson, Lincoln County, State of Maine," is marked on the inside of the front cover as "Volume 3rd of Records." Most of the records in this third volume were evidently written about 1820, and the writer appears to have been James Sinclair, town clerk of Jefferson for a number of years, who was born in Scotland and whose family record is entered in the book. There are, however, many additions of later date. The volume is badly worn, as a result of frequent handling, and in some cases the dates are obscure. A copy of "Volume 3rd of Records," made with great care in 1898, was given in 1899 by Mr. Harold Lewis Bond to the New England Historic Genealogical Society, and the first part of it is printed below. The publication of these records will be continued in a future number of the REGISTER.

TAXPAYERS IN WARRENSBURG, N. Y., 1814, 1816

FROM A COPY OF THE ASSESSMENT ROLLS IN THE POSSESSION OF THE
NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

In the possession of the New England Historic Genealogical Society is a typewritten copy of two assessment rolls of the real and personal estate in the town of "Warrensburgh," Warren Co., N. Y., the first roll taken 24 June 1814 by Samuel Stackhouse, Isaac Woodward, and John McMillen, Assessors, and the second roll taken 28 June 1816 by Peleg Tripp, John Griffing, and Kitchel Bishop, Assessors. The first roll gives in separate columns the taxes assessed on the real and personal estate of each taxpayer, and in a third column his or her total tax. The second roll gives the assessments on each taxpayer's real and personal estate, but gives the total tax in only one instance. Below are printed the names of the persons assessed on these two rolls. A name followed by the date 1814 or 1816 in parentheses is found only on the roll for the year thus indicated. The other names occur on both rolls, the spelling of a name on the roll of 1814 being followed in parentheses by any variations in spelling found on the roll of 1816.

INSCRIPTIONS IN THE WAPPAQUIANS BURIAL GROUND, POMFRET, CONN., 1723-1861FROM COPIES IN THE POSSESSION OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

THE earliest burial ground used by the settlers in Pomfret, Conn., was near the meeting house; but in 1719 the town voted "That the burying place be removed to a more convenient place," and accepted from Dea. Philemon Chandler the gift of two acres of land for that purpose, bounded north by Wappaquians Brook and east by the highway. The first person interred in the new burial ground is believed to have been Joseph Griffin, in 1723, one of the original proprietors of the Mashamoquet Purchase, which included the territory of the present towns of Pomfret, Brooklyn, and Putnam, and the parish of Abington, Conn.* Although it is supposed that more than 1500 persons were buried in this burial ground prior to 1862, the inscriptions which remain from that period make known the names of only about one-third of this number.

In 1862 two residents of Pomfret, Miss Ellen Holt (afterwards Mrs. Henry Chandler Bowen of Brooklyn, N. Y.) and her sister, Miss Marian Chandler Holt (afterwards Mrs. Edward Payson Mathewson of Pomfret), copied these inscriptions for their uncle, George Chandler, A.B., M.D., of Worcester, Mass., a native of Pomfret, an eminent physician, the compiler of the Chandler genealogy, and a member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society†. Dr. Chandler, who died in 1893, deposited a manuscript copy of these inscriptions with the Society, and in 1913 Henry Smith Mathewson, A.B., M.D., of Pomfret, a son of Mrs. Marian Chandler (Holt) Mathewson and also a member of the Society, presented to the Society a typewritten copy which he had made from another (perhaps the original) manuscript copy. The inscriptions printed below have been taken from Dr. Mathewson's typewritten copy, compared with Dr. Chandler's earlier manuscript copy. They have been arranged alphabetically for publication, but the original division into lines given in the typewritten copy has been disregarded, and verses or statements containing no genealogical or biographical information have been omitted.

SEVERAL years ago the New England Historic Genealogical Society purchased, on the account of the John Harvey Treat Fund, a type-written copy of the earliest marriage licenses issued in Prince George's County, Md. This copy, containing 104 pages, is followed by a page bearing the following certificate:

STATE OF MARYLAND,

I hereby certify that the foregoing is truly taken and copied from the several Marriage License Records of said County, commencing with the earliest Marriage License Record extant, (May 31st., 1777) and ending April 30th., 1824. In testimony whereof, I hereto set my hand and affix the seal of the Circuit Court for the County aforesaid, this 15th. day of May, 1893.

[Seal of Circuit Court for Prince
George's County, Maryland.]

[Signed] John W. Belt,
Clerk.

In this typewritten copy a few mistakes of the typist have been corrected with pen and ink, apparently before certification. There are also here and there additions, suggestions about doubtful readings, and queries, in ink or in pencil, and these have been enclosed in brackets in the text of the printed copy given below or placed in footnotes. The word sic, in brackets, is inserted occasionally by the Editor to call attention to readings which may have been incorrectly copied from the original records.

The certified copy follows.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

By HENRY EDWARDS SCOTT, A.B., Recording Secretary

Boston, Massachusetts, 2 January 1919. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., Vice-President Chase presiding.

The minutes of the December meeting were approved, and the reports of the Corresponding Secretary, Librarian, Historian, and Council were accepted, the Council reporting the names of seven persons who had been elected resident members.

On behalf of and by direction of the Council the Recording Secretary submitted certain proposed amendments to Articles 1, 2, and 3 of Chapter II of the By-Laws, and on motion these proposed amendments were referred to the Special Committee on Revision of the By-Laws, with a request for a report at the February meeting of the Society.

The Chair then presented the speaker of the afternoon, Fred E. Marble, Ph.D., of Cambridge, Mass., who gave a popular and entertaining paper entitled In the Wake of the War, which was illustrated with many interesting lantern slides.

After a vote of thanks to Dr. Marble the Chair declared the meeting dissolved, and a social hour in the tea room followed.

5 February. The annual meeting of the Society was held this day, for a report of which see the Supplement to the present number of the REGISTER.

5 March. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., Vice-President Chase presiding.

The minutes of the annual meeting were approved, and the reports of the Corresponding Secretary, Librarian, Historian, and Council were accepted, the Council reporting the election of Charles William Eliot, LL.D., of Cambridge, Mass., as an honorary member of the Society, and the election of two resident members, whose names were read.

* To this entry additions have been made in pencil, so that the entry, including the additions reads: "Gen. Philip Stuart of Rev. War and Mary Fell Baynes 2nd wife."

A report of the Committee on Papers and Essays was read, which stated that Mrs. Belle Seavey Floyd had presented to the Society, for use in the smaller hall, an antique mahogany desk and a rare piece of Wedgwood, and on motion it was Voted, That the thanks of the Society be extended to Mrs. Floyd for her valuable gifts.

The Chair then presented, as the speaker of the afternoon, Capt. H. D. Cormerais, U.S.A., of the One Hundred and First Infantry, whose subject was The Training of the Twenty-Sixth Division. He emphasized the fact that the Twenty-Sixth Division, originally composed chiefly of members of the New England National Guard, was the first completely equipped division to go to France. He described its training in France and its experiences at the front, and paid a sincere tribute to General Edwards, whom he called "the soul of the Division." The audience showed its appreciation of Captain Cormerais's narrative by frequent applause, and by a unanimous vote the thanks of the Society were extended to him for his interesting and instructive address.

The Chair then declared the meeting dissolved, and the members of the Society, with their guests, enjoyed a social hour in the tea room.

2 April. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the March meeting were approved, and the reports of the Corresponding Secretary, Librarian, Historian, and Council were accepted, the Council reporting the election of Arthur Twining Hadley, LL. D., of New Haven, Conn., as an honorary member of the Society, and the election of eight resident members, whose names were read.

The Chair then presented, as the speaker of the afternoon, George William Tupper, Ph. D., of Brookline, Mass., who read an instructive and interesting paper on Backgrounds of Present-Day Immigration. Carefully selected lantern slides showed types of immigrants of many races who come to this country and also unique illustrations of their primitive homes in the Old World.

President Baxter made a few remarks on the necessity of restricting the immigration of undesirable aliens; and then, on motion of Hosea Starr Ballou, it was voted to extend to the speaker the thanks of the Society for his interesting address.

The Chair then declared the meeting dissolved, and the members of the Society, with their guests, enjoyed a social hour in the tea room.

NOTES

It having come to the attention of this Society that certain genealogists and publishers have used the name of the Society in connection with their own enterprises, the Society again desires to state that it has NO genealogical representatives in this country or in England, nor is it in any way connected with any publications other than those that it issues over its own name at 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

BANISTER.—In the REGISTER, vol. 69, page 352, the only information given about Thomas³ Banister (Thomas,² Thomas¹ of Boston, Mass.) is that he was born 2 June 1706, and that administration on the estate of Thomas Banister of Boston, mariner, was granted 14 June 1726 to John Crisde of Boston, gardiner, according to Suffolk Probate Records, vol. 24, page 523. The following additional facts concerning this Thomas Banister have recently been found.

On 19 June 1725, in the papers in a civil suit brought for Thomas³ Banister against his uncle, Samuel Banister, the surviving executor of his (Thomas's) grandmother Sarah's will, for a bequest at his marriage or coming of age, it is stated that the said Thomas had contracted marriage "and for five or six months last past [had] been joined together in marriage with Rebecca—ye daughter of John Green of Bradford." (Suffolk Court Files.) The Vital Records of Bradford (Mass.) show that Rebeckah Green, daughter of John and Rebeckah, was born 9 May 1701, that Sarah Banester, daughter of Thomas and Rebeca, was born 28 Dec. 1725, and died (as Sarah Banester, daughter of Thomas and Rebecka) 25 Jan. 1729 (that is, 1728/9, the inscription on her gravestone stating that she died 25 Jan. 1728, aged 3 years, 6 weeks), and that Thomas Banister died 8 Feb. 1725/6. The manner of Thomas Banister's death is described in a deposition by Nathaniel Welsh, aged 30, which states that Banister and others sailed for Martinico (Martinique) 5 Feb. 1725/6, in the brigantine Katherine, of 130 tons, John Mainwaring, master, and that on 8 Feb., in latitude 39 North, that is, off the mouth of Delaware Bay, the vessel shipped a prodigious sea, which swept overboard the captain and several of the crew, including Thomas Banister. HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE proved to be authentic be offered for record with this Society. The arrangements for the making and preservation of such records are complete, and the volume of recorded arms has been begun by the entry therein of a number of well-authenticated coats. Printed forms and directions for the making of applications may be obtained from the Committee, and all communications on this subject should be addressed to the Committee on Heraldry, New England Historic Genealogical Society, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

Without taking any position with reference to the propriety of assuming arms, the Committee will be glad to examine arms or heraldic devices which any person or organization desires to assume, and give advice as to whether the same are heraldically correct or whether they violate a right of exclusive use heretofore acquired by others.

ALUMNI CANTABRIGIENSES.—The following circular, dated at Caius College, Cambridge, 1 Feb. 1919, has been received from Dr. John Venn, F.R.S., of Vicars-brook, Chaucer Road, Cambridge, by whom it is signed:

“A NOTICE has been issued, by the Cambridge University Press, that an Alumni Cantabrigienses is in preparation. It will be on the general lines of Mr Jos. Foster’s well-known Alumni Oxonienses, but will be, it is hoped, in several respects more complete in its extent. It is, in fact, proposed to include every known Cambridge name, from the earliest historical date, i.e. from about 1250.

“The experience I have gained from similar work in the case of a single College (Gonville and Caius) has convinced me that much loss would be avoided if those interested in such an undertaking could send information before publication. What I have found is that after publication the compiler receives a large amount of useful information and many corrections when it is too late to make public use of them.

“What I would suggest is that every one who can supply facts about any Cambridge man, of a private kind, or which from any cause do not get into ordinary printed records, should communicate them to me. This would apply especially to family histories and pedigrees. Further assistance would be welcomed from those who have devoted attention to such special branches of research as county or parochial history, the records of any particular school or profession, members of Parliament, titled persons, etc. The sooner such information can be sent the better.

“These remarks apply especially to Part I of the work, 1250–1752, which contains nearly 80,000 names, as to many of which we have, at present, no further information beyond what is contained in the College Admission Registers and Graduati.”

In a letter, dated 18 Apr. 1919, which accompanies the circular, Dr. Venn writes that he is sure that the circular will “meet with a response from many on your side of the water. . . . Cambridge played such an important part in the early life of New England that I hope to get many suggestions.”

VITAL RECORDS OF VERMONT.—William Taft Slayton, M.D., of Morrisville, Vt., a member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, as Chairman of the Committee on Public Health in the Vermont House of Representatives, introduced in the recent session of the Legislature a bill to provide for the completion of the vital records of the State, and this bill was enacted into law and reads as follows:

No. 92. An Act to provide for the Completion of the Vital Records of the State and to require Town Clerks to transmit Certain Records to the Secretary of State.

It is hereby enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Vermont:

Section 1. The secretary of state shall, as soon as practicable after the passage of this act, ascertain from what towns and for what years complete returns of births, marriage and deaths have not been made to the state, or are not to be found among the records of his office, and shall convey this information to the clerks of such towns, together with suitable blanks upon which to make returns.

Sec. 2. Such town clerks shall, under the direction of the secretary of state, cause to be transcribed in full upon said blanks all records of births, marriages and deaths in the possession of the town, and churches, not already returned, and to transmit the same, properly certified, to the secretary of state within such reasonable time as may be allowed by him, and for such service the town clerk or person performing the service shall receive from the town the sum of five cents for each record so transcribed, certified and transmitted. If the death records of a town prior to 1870 are incomplete, the secretary of state shall notify the selectmen of said town to that effect. The selectmen of such town shall, before October 1, 1919, cause to be copied at the expense of the town under the direction of the secretary of state, the inscription[s] on all gravestones in their town erected to the memory of any person who died prior to 1870 so far as relates to name of deceased, date of death, age or date of birth, if given, and the name of the cemetery where buried and shall cause such records to be recorded in the town records. The secretary of state shall furnish the town clerk of said town suitable blank cards for the return of such records which shall be returned as before provided in this section, not later than January 1, 1920.

Sec. 3. All records returned in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be so filed and indexed as to be made readily available for reference.

Sec. 4. This act shall take effect from its passage.

Approved March 26, 1919.

In a letter transmitting a copy of the act Dr. Slayton writes: "You will note that it [the act] calls for the copying of all gravestone inscriptions bearing date prior to 1870, the death records of no towns prior to that date being complete, as well as all town and church records not previously returned to the Secretary of State."

GENEALOGIES IN PREPARATION.—Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U. S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates of birth, marriage, residence, and death. All names should be given in full if possible. No initials should be used when the full name is known.

HON. LOUIS ATWOOD COOK

By GEORGE WALTER CHAMBERLAIN, M.S., of Malden, Mass.

LOUIS ATWOOD COOK of Weymouth, Mass., a resident member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society since 1907, died at his summer home at Bayside in Weymouth on Thursday, 16 May 1918, aged seventy-one years and twelve days. His last visit to the Society's building was made on 1 May 1918, when he attended the regular meeting of the Council, to which he had been elected, at the annual meeting of the Society on 6 February 1918, for the three years 1918-1920.

He was born at Blackstone, Mass., 4 May 1847, the elder son of Louis and Orinda Ballou (Cook) Cook, who were residents of that part of ancient Mendon which was set off, 25 March 1845, as the town of Blackstone. He was descended in at least five lines from Walter¹ Cook, who settled in Weymouth as early as 1643 and, with eleven other families, removed to the Quinshepaug Plantation, now the town of Mendon, in 1663. His direct paternal line from Walter¹ was through Nicholas², Noah³, Ichabod⁴, Ichabod⁵ and Louis⁶, his father. His mother, Orinda Ballou Cook, was a daughter of Zimri and Olive W. (Allen) Cook, and his paternal grandmother, Louisa Cook, was a daughter of Thaddeus and Rhoda (Ballou) Cook, both mother and grandmother being of Mendon and being descendants of Walter¹ Cook. He also claimed descent from Keziah Cook, daughter of Noah³ Cook by his second wife, Olive Gaskill. In fact, Judge Cook was often heard to remark that he was "well cooked." His Ballou line of descent was from Maturin¹ Ballou, who settled in Providence, R. I., as early as 1645, through James², Obadiah³, Ezekiel⁴, Levi⁵ and Rhoda⁶, one of his great-grandmothers. Among his other ancestors were Benjamin Albee, an early settler of Braintree and Mendon, Mass., and Thomas Thayer, who came to Braintree from Thornbury in Gloucestershire, England.

Judge Cook's father was a teacher in a Friends' school at Providence, but his early death, before his elder son had attained the age of three years, gave that son the opportunity to become a self-made man. His boyhood was spent on the "Candlewood" farm in Blackstone. His early education was obtained in the public schools of Blackstone and at Woonsocket, R. I., and from the Woonsocket

High School he entered Phillips Exeter Academy, where he was graduated in 1869.

For several years he was a school-teacher, first at Bellingham and Blackstone, Mass., afterwards at Smithfield and Manville, R. I., and from 1872 on at Weymouth, where he was principal of the Bates Grammar School until he resigned this position to enter upon a larger service on 1 Jan. 1880.

While teaching he had taken up the study of law. Under the direction of Judge James Humphrey of Weymouth he continued this study, and was admitted to the bar in 1884. With William J. Coughlan and Daniel J. Coughlan he then formed the law firm of Cook and Coughlan, which had offices in Abington, South Weymouth, and Boston.

In 1896 he was appointed associate justice of the East Norfolk District Court, established at Quincy, and in November of the same year he was elected clerk of the Superior Court of Norfolk County, filling both positions with ability and satisfaction until the day of his death—a period of nearly twenty-two years. As a judge of the acts and omissions of his fellow men he showed a scrupulous regard for the established rules of evidence and allowed full time for the arguments of counsel, who were compelled to prepare each case with the greatest care. When he had patiently ascertained the facts, he endeavoured to apply the law thereto; and when his decision was rendered, the litigants felt that their cause had been fully heard.

In politics he was a Republican, and represented Weymouth in the General Court in 1880, 1889, and 1890. In 1892 he needed only one more vote to secure the nomination for the State Senate. As a member of the Legislature he was a strong man, upholding the principles of temperance and exercising great influence in the passage of the so-called "Screen Law."

As a public speaker Judge Cook was an earnest, forceful, and patriotic supporter of the best American ideals and institutions.

He was deeply interested in Colonial and family history, was vice-president of the Weymouth Historical Society, and had been president of the Mendon Historical Society. He made a special study of the history of the settlement of Weymouth, consulting original sources of information which the late Gilbert Nash and the late Charles Francis Adams and their associates had apparently not discovered. For more than twenty years he had been engaged in preparing a genealogy of the descendants of Walter¹ Cook. These valuable manuscripts, however, remain unpublished.

In 1914 Judge Cook visited England, to represent the town of Weymouth, Mass., at the ceremonies connected with the unveiling, in the borough of Weymouth in Dorsetshire, of a monument in memory of Richard Clark of Weymouth, master of the ship Delight, which accompanied Sir Humphrey Gilbert on his voyage to Newfoundland in 1583, and of John Endicott, Governor of the Colony of the Massachusetts Bay, who sailed in 1628 from that ancient seaport to the shores of New England. Judge Cook's reception on that occasion and his address, in which he extended to the English borough the greetings of its Massachusetts namesake, were prominent features of the celebration.

In his home town Judge Cook was for a long time a member of the Park Commission, he was a trustee of the Tufts Public Library, he served for eight years as a member of the School Committee—he had previously been for three years a member of the School Committee of Blackstone, and for twenty-six years he was elected moderator of the annual town meeting at Weymouth. He was prominent in the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and in other fraternal organizations, and in early life affiliated himself with the Union Congregational Church of South Weymouth, one of his last acts being to help in establishing a permanent union of the Union Church and the Old South Church—for years rivals—in the village of South Weymouth.

Like many men active in public life, he was at times bitterly assailed. In the face of attacks, however, he remained silent. No harsh words fell from his lips. Kindness overcame the bitterness of his enemies. He won.

He married, 22 February 1876, Lucinda Aldrich Clark, born at Smithfield, R. I., 29 November 1858, daughter of Joseph Stevens and Mercy Maria (Aldrich) Clark. Mrs. Cook survives her husband; and their three children, all of whom are living, are Louis Aldrich, B.A. (Yale, 1900), a lawyer, Sidney Rogers, B.A. (Yale, 1905), editor of The Canadian Weekly, which is published in Toronto, Canada, and Florence Maria, sometime a student at Vassar College and now a teacher of the Montessori system of training children.

THE following inscriptions, all that are now to be found in the cemetery at East Bakersfield, Franklin Co., Vt., were copied verbatim on 19 Aug. 1918. The punctuation of the original inscriptions has been followed as closely as possible, but in doubtful cases the usual present-day punctuation has been given.

BURIALS IN THE BAPTIST CEMETERY,
STEPHENTOWN, N. Y.FROM A MANUSCRIPT IN THE POSSESSION OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC
GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

THE town of Stephentown, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., was formed 29 Mar. 1784 from Rensselaerswyck, and was named in honor of Stephen Van Rensselaer. It is situated in the southeastern corner of the county, and is bounded on the east by the town of Hancock, in Berkshire Co., Mass. The settlement of the territory now comprised in Stephentown began about 1765, the early settlers coming from Connecticut and Rhode Island. On the hill back of Stephentown Village is the Baptist cemetery, one of the oldest in the town, which was probably set apart as a burial ground about the time of the organization of the Baptist Church, that is, about 1795 or 1796. In this cemetery many of the early inhabitants of the town are buried.

In 1903 the late James Swift Rogers, A. B., a distinguished member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, presented to the Library of the Society a manuscript of twenty-nine pages, written in pencil, and bearing the heading "Names of persons buried in the Baptist cemetery in Stephentown, N. Y." It is evident that the manuscript does not contain a verbatim copy of the inscriptions in the cemetery, but it does give the names and dates found on the gravestones. The pencilled writing will in a few years become illegible, and the paper is far from durable; and therefore the contents of the manuscript are printed below, in order to ensure their preservation.

Much information about the settlement of Stephentown and the families of the early settlers is given in Sylvester's "History of Rensselaer Co., New York," published in Philadelphia in 1880, pages 491-501, and six inscriptions in the Baptist cemetery, printed verbatim in that volume, have been substituted in this article for the briefer statements found in the Rogers manuscript. Another inscription, that in memory of Capt. Israel Platt, which does not appear at all in the manuscript, is reproduced verbatim from the "History," and from that book also the death record of Caleb Saunders has been taken. Probably some of the inscriptions which were legible when the "History" was compiled had already disappeared when the facts given in the Rogers manuscript were collected.

It should be stated that the Rogers manuscript apparently makes no distinction between such expressions as "aged 58 years" and "in the 58th year of his age."

CEMETERY INSCRIPTIONS AT AUBURN AND TURNER, ME.

Copied by WINTHROP ALEXANDER of Roxbury, Mass.

THE inscriptions given below were copied in 1910, and include all the inscriptions extant at that time in the three cemeteries visited. In each of these cemeteries, however, were several rough, unlettered stones, indicating graves.

FROM AN OLD CEMETERY IN TURNER, ME.

[This cemetery is situated at the foot of Dillingham Hill, which was formerly a part of Turner, later belonged to Minot, and is now in Auburn, Me. The cemetery is on the north side of the hill, in the town of Turner, just across the line from Auburn. It is near the village of North Auburn. Most of the people buried in this cemetery lived on Dillingham Hill. No interments are now made here, and several bodies have been removed to the new cemetery at North Auburn.]

NOTES

It having come to the attention of this Society that certain genealogists and publishers have used the name of the Society in connection with their own enterprises, the Society again desires to state that it has NO genealogical representatives in this country or in England, nor is it in any way connected with any publications other than those that it issues over its own name at 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

GEORGE HALL'S LETTER TO HIS SISTER.—Richard Hall of Boston, Gentleman, one of several Richard Halls who lived in Boston in the first half of the eighteenth century,* in his will, dated 19 Apr. 1744 and proved 3 July 1744, mentions his sons John, George, Richard, William, Charles, and James, and his daughters Constance Woodhouse and Mary Hall. The son James and the daughter Mary were executors of the will. (Suffolk Probate Records, vol. 37, fo. 185.) James married in Boston, 11 May 1749, Mary Lincoln, both he and his bride being called of Hingham

*For records of various Richard Halls in Boston see Publications of The Colonial Society of Massachusetts, vol. 14, pp. 400-405.

(Boston Marriages, 1700-1751, page 250). He was a poll-tax payer in Hingham in 1749, and an account of him and of his children and grandchildren may be found in the "History of the Town of Hingham," vol. 2, pages 283-284. The statement there made, however, that James was probably related to the Halls of Dorchester or Taunton, must be regarded as incorrect. James's sister Constance married in Boston, 12 July 1726, William Woodhouse (Boston Marriages, 1700-1751, page 136). What became of five of the six other children of Richard Hall of Boston, viz., John, Richard, William, Charles, and Mary, has not been discovered; but the letter given below accounts for the disappearance of their brother George from the New England records, showing that he was in North Carolina in 1751, was then married, and had a son named James. According to the United States Census of 1790 there was at that time, in the region from which the letter was written, a James Hall, and he may have been the son mentioned in the letter.

The letter is printed from a copy of a copy made by the late Hattie M.⁶ Hall of Everett, Mass., whose father, George⁵ Hall (George⁴ of Cohasset, James³ of Hingham, James² of Hingham, Richard¹ of Boston), was a brother of Henry K.⁶ Hall, late of Chelsea, Mass., the father of the contributor of this note. The letter follows:

Loving Sister

Having this opportunity to write unto you I send these few lines to you to acquaint you that I am in good health hoping you are in the Same. I here my father is dead & I Desire you to Send me word how his Estate was manged & if there was anything left me I Desire you would send it to me & Derect it to be Left @ Wm Wym in Carbee North Carolina upon Chowan River. pray Remember my love to my Brothers & to the rest of my friends no more @ present but your Loving Brother til death

March 15th 1751.

George Hall.

I am married I got one Son & his Name is James.

ANCESTRY OF HON. ANDREW DICKSON WHITE, LL.D., D.C.L.—In the memoir of the late Hon. Andrew Dickson White, LL.D., D.C.L., an honorary member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, which was published in the Supplement to the REGISTER of April 1919, the following statement is made (page lxi): "A tradition that he was descended from Peregrine White of the Mayflower he never took pains to verify; but his grandparents, early settlers in New York, were from Massachusetts—Asa White from Monson and Andrew Dickson from Middlefield."

This was, indeed, substantially all that was known by Mr. White regarding his ancestry at the time (1905) when he published his "Autobiography," but much more was learned during the later years of his life. In that very summer of 1905 the writer of this communication, acting on the wish of a daughter of Mr. White to know more of her father's ancestral line, spent his vacation in New England, and, with the solid aid of land and probate records, traced Mr. White's paternal ancestry back to the seventeenth century. Mr. White was himself much interested, and in the last vigorous summer of his life visited some of the homes of his ancestors, learning at Guilford, Conn., the home of his maternal grandmother, Ruth Hall, her full American pedigree. His paternal line is as follows:

He was a descendant of John¹ White, who a little before the middle of the seventeenth century, in partnership with James Phips, father of Sir William Phips, bought a large tract of land at Nequasset (now Woolwich), Me., on the eastern side of the Kennebec River, opposite the present city of Bath. After the death of James Phips this John White married his widow, Mary, and became by her the father of eight children. One of these children, Philip² White, later of Beverly, Mass., was through his descendants, Andrew,³ Andrew,⁴ Asa,⁵ Asa,⁶ and Horace,⁷ the ancestor of Andrew Dickson⁸ White.

In an article entitled "James Lane of North Yarmouth, Me., and His Descendants," contributed to the REGISTER of April 1888 (vol. 42) by Rev. James P. Lane, it is asserted (page 152), on the authority of William M. Sargent, Esq., of Portland, Me., now deceased, an able student of Maine genealogy, that John White of Nequasset was "the son of Nicholas White . . . , who in 1639 was employed by Trelawney in fishing voyages" and who later owned lands in Casco Bay. There is, however, grave reason to doubt this parentage.

GEORGE LINCOLN BURR.

ANCESTRY OF ELIZABETH, WIFE OF THOMAS GROSSE.—So far as the writer is aware, no one has hitherto offered any proof of the maiden name of Elizabeth, wife of Thomas³ Grosse (Clement,² Isaac¹) of Boston. The suggestion that she was a Harrison must now be given up. She named her first three children Hannah, Elizabeth, and Abigail. Now Nicholas and Hannah (Salter) Phillips had three children thus named, who, with their sister Sarah, were all baptized together 6, 3 mo. 1666 (Boston Births, Baptisms, Marriages, and Deaths, 1630–1699, page 102), and this gives a possibility to be proved or disproved.

In 1679 a parcel of dry goods, bought in Boston, was lost in transit by water to Ipswich, and the owner, Roger Darby, who had married in 1668 Lucretia Hillman, sued the carrier, Samuel³ Dutch (Robert,² Osman¹), who had married in 1673 Abigail Giddings. Among the fourteen papers preserved about this interesting case are two depositions of importance (Suffolk Court Files, 1894). On 21 Apr. 1680 "Abigail Phillips, aged eighteen years or thereabouts, Testifieth and Saith that some short time before the late great fire in Boston, the sayd deponent then Keeping here sister Grosses shop did sell to Dutch of Ipswich three p'cells of blew lening," etc. Samuel³ Dutch, it may be said, born in 1650, was a grandson of Richard Kimball of Rattlesden, co. Suffolk, Eng., and Abigail Phillips's grandfather, George Salter, also was of Rattlesden. On the same date, 21 Apr. 1680, "Elizabeth Grosse, aged twenty six yeares or thereabouts testifieth and saith that Mrs. Darby of Ipswich came to me the sd. deponent, And Asked me whether the Dutches did buy of me any goods since the fire in Boston and I answered her that they had bought none that I knew of but what they might buy of my sister Abigail Phillips who sometime kept my shop," etc. Elizabeth Phillips was born 24 Feb. 1652/3 (Boston Births, Baptisms, Marriages, and Deaths, 1630–1699, page 36), and her sister Abigail was born 20 Feb. 1662 [1661/2] (Savage).

Now we know of no Grosse in Boston in 1680; with wife Elizabeth, except Thomas³ (Clement,² Isaac¹), born before 1649. This is the Thomas Grosse of Suffolk Deeds, lib. 24, fo. 262: 10 Feb. 1692, "Thomas Pemberton of Boston, Barber Chyrurgeon, and Hannah his wife, one of the daughters of Nicholas Phillips, late of Boston, Victualler, dee'd; Christopher Goffe of Boston, marriner, and Abigail his wife, one other of the dee'd's daughters; John Smith of Boston, marriner, and Sarah his wife, another of the deceased's daughters; and Thomas Phillips of Boston, Taylor, son of said dee'd, and Mary [(Howard)] his wife" sell to "Thomas Gross of the same Boston, shopkeeper, a peice or parcel of land, on part of which standeth the tenement or dwelling of him, said Gross, on Conduit St. [later Ann Street, now North Street.] The above named covenant that they are the true sole and lawful owners of all afore bargained premisses." Lastly, "John Ruggles victualler, and Hannah his present wife, heretofore the relict widow of the sd. Nicholas Phillips, and mother of his aforesaid surviving children," agree and consent. Though dated 10 Feb. 1692, this deed was not recorded till 2 Dec. 1709. This is the land referred to in Suffolk Court Files, 4404, 22 Dec. 1697, as sold to Nicholas Phillips by James Everill on 25 May 1666, but the deed was not recorded till 2 Dec. 1709 (Suffolk Deeds, lib. 24, fo. 261).

Abigail Phillips, born in 1662, married (1) about 1687 Christopher Goffe, who died 1 May 1699 (Boston Births, Baptisms, Marriages, and Deaths, 1630–1699, page 252); she married (2) 28 Oct. 1699 (ib.) Samuel³ Wentworth (Samuel,² William¹), born in 1666. Her daughter Rachel Goffe, born 2 Mar. 1694/5 (ib., page 214), married (1) 15 Nov. 1711 William Partridge (Boston Marriages, 1700–1751, page 36), and (2) 10 Aug. 1721 Francis Gatcomb (ib., page 100). Widow Rachel (Goffe) Gatcomb in her will, proved 24 Nov. 1752 (Suffolk Probate Records, vol. 47, fo. 144), leaves first of all a sum of money to her "beloved kinswoman Hulda Grosse." This Hulda Grosse, daughter of Thomas³ and Elizabeth (Phillips) Grosse, was born 13 Sept. 1685 (Boston Births, Baptisms, Marriages, and Deaths, 1630–1699, page 165), and was first cousin of Rachel (Goffe) Gatcomb. All the evidence, then, is cumulative and points in one direction.

The line of Hannah Salter, wife of Nicholas Phillips, can be traced back, through her mother, for five generations. Elizabeth⁴ Winthrop (William³ and Elizabeth (Norwood), Adam,² Adam¹), first cousin of Gov. John⁴ Winthrop (Adam,³ Adam,² Adam¹), was baptized 24 Apr. 1569, and her will was proved 17 Oct. 1631. She married Rev. Humphrey⁴ Munning (Humphrey,³ Thomas,² Henry¹), Rector of Brettenham, co. Suffolk, Eng. Their daughter, Elizabeth⁶ Munning, married at Rattlesden, co. Suffolk, 29 Oct. 1617, George Salter, as is noted in the diary of Adam³ Winthrop. (Cf. also REGISTER, vol. 57, page 331.) The will of George Salter of Dedham, co. Essex, Eng., grazier, dated 7 Sept. 1653 and proved 18 July 1654 (ib., vol. 48, page 128), and that of his widow, Elizabeth, of the same place, dated 1 Dec. 1660 and proved 15 June 1662 (ib., vol. 55, page 107), both mention, with other children, daughters Abigail and Hannah, both in New England, the will of their mother naming them as Abigail Hammond and Hannah Phillips.

Hannah² Salter, called Anne in the baptismal record at Rattlesden, 19 Dec. 1630 (ib., vol. 57, page 331), married (1) in Boston, 4, 10 mo. 1651, Nicholas Phillips (Boston Births, Baptisms, Marriages, and Deaths, 1630-1699, page 34), whose ancestry is unknown. He is called shopkeeper and, later, victualler, and died Tuesday, 15 Mar. 1669/70 (Suffolk Probate Records, vol. 7, fo. 37). The inventory of his estate amounted to £400. 15s. 9d. Widow Hannah (Salter) Phillips married (2) before 3 Nov. 1671, when their daughter Ruth was born (Boston Births, Baptisms, Marriages, and Deaths, 1630-1699, page 120), John² Ruggles (Samuel¹ of Boston), who died after 10 Feb. 1692 (Suffolk Deeds, lib. 24, fo. 262) and before 5 May 1696 (ib. lib. 47, fo. 255). "Hanah Ruggles Died Janr. 3," 1696/7 (Boston Births, Baptisms, Marriages, and Deaths, 1630-1699, page 230).

Thomas³ Grosse died after 10 Feb. 1692 (Suffolk Deeds, lib. 24, fo. 262) and prior to 9 Oct. 1695, the date of the marriage intention of his widow, Elizabeth, and Joseph Eldridge (Boston Marriages, 1700-1751, page 348). She was the second wife of Joseph Eldridge. Widow Elizabeth Eldridge administered the estate of Joseph Eldridge, mariner, 8 Feb. 1697/8 (Suffolk Probate Records, vol. 8, fo. 95). The inventory, 12 May 1698, amounted to £1281. 5s. 10d., and mentions plate belonging to her former husband, Thomas Grosse (ib., vol. 8, fo. 167).

Widow Elizabeth Eldridge married (3) 13 May 1699 (Boston Births, Baptisms, Marriages, and Deaths, 1630-1699, page 251) Elias Heath, merchant, who figures in Dunton's letters. His will was proved 8 Nov. 1706 (Suffolk Probate Records, vol. 16, fo. 198).

Widow Elizabeth Heath married (4) 29 Dec. 1709 (Boston Marriages, 1700-1751, page 21) Francis Burroughs, merchant. In his will, proved 11 Dec. 1713 (Suffolk Probate Records, vol. 18, fo. 199), he mentions "Hulda Gross, unmarried daughter of my said wife Elizabeth," as well as his wife's married daughters.

Widow Elizabeth Burroughs administered the estate of her son, Thomas⁴ Grosse, 28 Mar. 1719/20, his widow, Phebe, giving a release in her favor (Suffolk Probate Records, vol. 21, fo. 674). From Suffolk Deeds, lib. 53, fo. 209, 5 Jan. 1736, it is clear that Elizabeth Burroughs was then dead; therefore Elizabeth Phillips, born 24 Feb. 1652/3 and four times wedded, died later than 28 Mar. 1719/20 and prior to 5 Jan. 1736.

Of the daughters of Thomas³ Grosse, Hannah married Nathaniel² Halsey (James¹), Elizabeth married John² Greenough (William¹ and Ruth Swift), Abigail married Joseph Shippen, Mary married John² Phillips (Henry¹ of Dedham), and Jerusha married John² Fayerweather (John,¹ Thomas¹); his only son, Thomas⁴ Grosse, married Phebe² Penhallow (1695-1775), daughter of Samuel¹ and Mary (Cutts). The identification of the wife of Thomas³ Grosse as Elizabeth² Phillips will therefore be of some interest to descendants in these families.

FRY-BROOKE.—Capt. Richard Fry of Boston was one of the early paper makers of New England, and a petition, dated 22 June 1739, from him to the Governor and General Court of the Province of the Massachusetts Bay in New England, together with other information about him, may be found in REGISTER, vol. 29, pages 159-162. In the petition of 22 June 1739 he mentions "his New England born son, James Brook Fry." On 27 Aug. 1745 administration was granted in Boston to Martha Frye on the estate of her husband, Richard Frye, paper maker, of Boston. On 18 Feb. 1749 [1749/50, intention 23 Dec. 1749] Robert Hewes and Ann Frey were married in King's Chapel, Boston. On 30 May 1751 Robert Hewes, tanner, of Boston, was appointed guardian of his sister-in-law, Martha Frye, a minor aged about ten years, daughter of Richard Frye late of Boston, paper maker, to receive her portion of an estate from her uncle, James Brooke of London, deceased. On 20 June 1762 Shubael Hewes, nephew of Robert Hewes, married Martha Frye. Their oldest child was Ann Frye Hewes and their sixth child was Richard Brooke Hewes. The following letter, found among the Hewes Papers, which are now deposited with the Bostonian Society, furnishes information about the English relatives of this family.

HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE

HERALDRY.—The Committee on Heraldry of the New England Historic Genealogical Society strongly recommends that all coats of arms which can be proved to be authentic be offered for record with this Society. The arrangements for the making and preservation of such records are complete, and the volume of recorded arms has been begun by the entry therein of a number of well-authenticated coats. Printed forms and directions for the making of applications may be obtained from the Committee, and all communications on this subject should be addressed to the Committee on Heraldry, New England Historic Genealogical Society, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

Without taking any position with reference to the propriety of assuming arms, the Committee will be glad to examine arms or heraldic devices which any person or organization desires to assume, and give advice as to whether the same are heraldically correct or whether they violate a right of exclusive use heretofore acquired by others.

GENEALOGIES IN PREPARATION.—Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U. S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates of birth, marriage, residence, and death. All names should be given in full if possible. No initials should be used when the full name is known.

ANDREW CARNEGIE, LL.D.

By LAWRENCE BRAINERD of Cambridge, Mass.

FROM the active arena of affairs in which he was long so dominant a factor, Andrew Carnegie, LL.D., Laird of Skibo, humanitarian, and world-famed philanthropist, has passed on to that reward which, in human judgment, is so fittingly his due. The end came at Shadowbrook, his summer home at Lenox in the Berkshires, on 11 August 1919. Scarcely could the death of any other citizen, in strictly unofficial life, have caused a greater note of sorrow or received more attentive consideration on the part of the American public.

Andrew Carnegie was born, amid humble surroundings but of eminently respected parentage, at Dunfermline, Fifeshire, Scotland, 25 November 1835. The incidents of his boyhood life, his experience as a weaver—the occupation of his immediate forbears, and his development until his arrival, at the age of thirteen, in America are too well known to demand minute review or elaboration of detail in a brief memoir of this unique, versatile, and admittedly remarkable man of genius.

It has been aptly said that the achievements of his business career and the accumulation of his great material fortune are symbolic of the possibilities of American commercialism; but the generous distribution of this vast wealth, the wisdom and sagacity of his noble benefactions, furnish a lesson unlimited by any national boundaries or standards, and show the giver to have been the disciple of a remarkable altruism and truly "One who loved his fellow men."

His was not a flagrant or vulgar philanthropy, but a striking evidence of careful deliberation and intelligent discrimination as to the expediency and need of each individual cause which came under the spell of his almost unbounded liberality.

His first American home was in Pittsburgh, Pa., a city which became, largely through his efforts and activities, one of the great steel centres of the world. His career in the land of his adoption reads indeed like a romance, for the poor immigrant youth of 1848 was destined in four decades to become, through his own sincerity of purpose and indomitable energy, one of the great international captains of industry, the world's leading producer of steel, and the possessor of a private fortune exceeded only by that of one other American.

During the dark days of the great struggle for the preservation of the Union, Mr. Carnegie was appointed director of Government railways and telegraphs in the East, and discharged the duties of this important post with the highest acceptance.

His first actual venture in the iron market was an investment of $1,500, borrowed money, in 1865; and thirty-six years later, in 1901, upon his retirement from business activities, he sold his private interests in the steel industry to the United States Steel Corporation for a sum exceeding one-quarter of a billion.

It is conservatively estimated that Mr. Carnegie's gifts to charitable institutions, libraries, and public foundations during his lifetime exceeded $350,000,000.

He established the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, with a total fund of $15,000,000, the scope of which includes the promotion and efficiency of educational work and the pensioning of college professors. In 1911 he capitalized this educational benevolence so that his benefactions might continue after his decease, by establishing the Carnegie Corporation, with a fund of $25,000,000. One of his greatest and most ardent ideals was the abolition of war; and he contributed $10,000,000 towards an international Peace Fund and built the Peace Palace at The Hague, which was dedicated in 1913. His establishment of the Carnegie Hero Fund, providing medals and pensions for acts of heroism, was another notable and unique conception of his benevolent mind. His gifts were not confined to America alone, but foreign lands and particularly his beloved mother country profited by his substantial charities.

Mr. Carnegie was deeply interested in music, and provided hundreds of churches and other institutions with costly organs. One of his earliest gifts was the Carnegie Music Hall in New York, which cost $2,000,000; and as president of the New York Philharmonic Society he gave large sums for the furtherance of this society's ideals.

In 1901 he established his legal home in New York City, where, at the corner of Fifth Avenue and Ninetieth Street, he built a dignified and costly mansion. In the same year, also, he purchased the celebrated Skibo Castle in Scotland. This charming estate, containing an acreage of many square miles along the Highland coast of his native land, was the summer home of Mr. Carnegie for several years. As master of his baronial structure he was affectionately called "the Laird of Skibo." An interesting detail in the appointments of this Scottish home is the fact that at Mr. Carnegie's personal dictation the main flagstaff of the castle flew to the breeze both the Stars and Stripes of the land of his adoption and the Union Jack of the land of his nativity.

Mr. Carnegie's name was not unknown in the world of letters, and his contributions to literature were of a varied character. His books numbered some twelve or more. His first production, a testimony to his love of coaching, appeared in 1883, under the title of "An American Four-in-Hand in Great Britain." The following year he wrote "Around the World," a book of travel. This was followed by "Triumphant Democracy," "The Gospel of Wealth," "The Empire of Business," and "The Life of James Watt," the inventor of the steam engine. The most recent production of his pen was "Problems of Today."

Numerous honors and decorations were bestowed upon Mr. Carnegie by rulers and people all over the world. In recognition of his princely benefactions, he received the freedom of scores of cities in Great Britain and Ireland. He was lord rector of the University of St. Andrews from 1903 to 1907 and of the University of Aberdeen from 1912 to 1914; and was honored with the degree of Doctor of Laws by the Universities of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Birmingham, and Manchester in Great Britain, by McGill University in Canada, and by Brown University, the University of Pennsylvania, and Cornell University in the United States.

He belonged to numerous philosophical, civic, and scientific bodies, among them the American Institute of Architects, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the American Institute of Mining Engineers, the National Civic Federation, the American Philosophic Society, and the New York Chamber of Commerce. He was a commander of the Legion of Honor of France and had also received the Grand Crosses, Order of Orange Nassau and Order of Danebrog. He was a member of the Union League, New York Yacht, Authors', Lotos, St. Andrews Riding, and Indian Harbor Yacht Clubs. Shortly before his death he accepted an invitation to become a Pilgrim Tercentenary member of the New Eng and Historic Genealogical Society, thus showing his high appreciation of the work of this institution and giving fresh proof of his devotion to the ideals of the founders of American democracy.

On 22 April 1887, at the age of fifty-one, Mr. Carnegie was united in marriage to Louise, daughter of the late John R. Whitfield, Esq., and Frances (Davis) Whitfield of New York City. The ceremony was performed at the home of Mrs. Carnegie's mother, No. 35 West Forty-eighth Street. Mrs. Carnegie, her husband's junior by twenty years, is a native of New York, and enjoys membership in the Huguenot Society of America and the Dorothy Whitfield Society. The domesticity of Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie was one of tranquillity and sympathetic understanding. In addition to his widow, Mr. Carnegie is survived by an only daughter, Margaret, who on 23 April of this year became the wife of Ensign Roswell Miller, U. S. N., of Millbrook, N. Y.

The passing of this distinguished man brought forth expressions of grief from the press of all countries and messages of sympathy from the rulers of the Old World and from prominent state officials in America, but the highest and most enduring tribute to his memory comes and will continue to come in all ages from the great rank and file of mankind, the beneficiaries of his gifts, who will wreath his grave with joy and write the happiness he gave.
